SATURDAY, JULY 6, 1895.

Fourth at Atlantic.

The good citizens of Atlantic got together a few weeks ago and said we will put this ward race on the Fourth. That settled it, and from that time on everyone has been on the alert to make the affair a success, and it certainly was.

There was but little sleep for the quiet citizen Wednesday night as young America was about determined to celebrate the day and they did it.

All Atlantic was up with the sun in the morning, ready for the first feature, which was the antique and horrible parade.

This formed on Atlantic street and moved shortly after 10 o'clock. The parade was a good one and in it were many unique features as well as some pointed local hits, which were well appreciated by those who reside within the limits of the ward.

The make up of the parade was as follows:

SQUAD OF POLICE.
Lieut. Hollander, Officers Dawson, Hunt, Golden and McKay.
COMMITTEE ON FISCAL.
Mounted as Mexicans, Thomas, Clark, chief.
Aids: Fred S. Moxon and H. G. Moxon.

barbers chairs in which were seated two victims, one getting a hair cut and the other a shave.

LOCAL HIT.
Ringling Circus, team driven by a clown,
in what was supposed to be the cage,
was another clown holding a string to which was attached a stuffed cat said to be the only trained animal in Atlantic.
A card on the horse read:
"When in doubt go to Harry W. Read."

HUMOROUS FEATURES.
The Brownies represented two little fellows playing pool.
HUMOROUS FEATURES.
In an old buggy covered with netting were seated two people, labeled "You can't play in my yard."

LOCAL HIT.

was represented in tableaux: Faith,
Hope, Charity, Goddess of Liberty, Industry and Justice.
LOCAL HIT.
Hurry Up Wagon containing two officers and a prisoner.

This team was labeled:
"A recent appropriation gives Atlantic two more policemen and a hurry-up wagon."
Also "More noise than business. We sleep nights and don't work days."

HUMOROUS FEATURES.
Cozy's Army on foot led by a file and drum corps.
A more dispirited looking set of individuals would be hard to find. They carried several banners upon which were the following words:

"We are the people and must be heard."
"Old clothes and old victrolas gladly received."
"Cozy's Sons of Veterans."

The Prizes.
Messrs. W. B. Glover, E. G. Hall, J. A.
Gray, G. W. Hinkley and Edmund Pope were the judges and they awarded the prizes as follows:

Best local hit, Police patrol, first, $5.
Ringling's circus, second, $2.
Most humorous feature, Cozy's army, first, $5. The Brownies, second, $2.
Most original feature, Matinee wielder club, first, $5. Walter T. Clark, as a mountain Indian warrior, second, $2.

Most elegant feature, Liberty Bell, first, $10. Squamous yacht club, second, $4.
Bicycle parade and races.

By the time the morning parade had been dismissed it began to rain, and it was with difficulty that enough could be found to enter the bicycle parade.
There were but a few of the route was cut short.

Next was the boys' bicycle race, the distance being a mile over a mile. There were four starters in this race, Frank Curtin, F. Brown, S. Kingston and E.
Wahlan. Brown took the lead at the start and held it, finishing first with F. Curtin a good second. Time, 7:04.

The three-mile handicap race was next in order, the entries being W. F. Farnald, scratch, and H. Stephenson, M. Canty, Frank Cox, George Briggs, H. Von Enden and O. O'Connell, 1:50.

Stephenson took the lead at the start and set the pace for Cox who spurred on the last lap and crossed the tape first with Stephenson second. Time, 10 minutes.

The one mile foot race which was to have been held at two o'clock, was now called and as there were but two entries Harry Parker and Amelio Paul, but one prize was given, which was won by Parker.
Time, 4:40.

The Aquatic Events.
An adjournment was then made to the shore where the members of the Squamous yacht club were found with their yachts ready and willing to take out any and all who desired to sail. Many availed themselves of the opportunity.

There was also a dory and tender race.
In the former there were but two entries, 1492 and Gertrude. The Gertrude finished first but as neither had been measured the winner is in doubt.

In the tender race the entries were J.
Stewart, C. B. Gardner, A. L. Barstow,
Mr. Todd and Mr. Freeman. This race was won by J. Stewart.

The only citizen who has taken place was the bath Mr. J. E. Drew took by walking off of the float, which the crowd could not swim.

The Ball Games.
The young man who kept the score of the base ball games disappeared with the score after the game and only the result thereof is given. The boys' game was won by Clinton's nine by a score of 18 to 12, and the game between the married and single men was won by the single men, by a score of 8 to 7.

At music hall there were pleasing exhibitions both during the forenoon and afternoon for the children, consisting of vocal, instrumental, and instrumental music.
It was intended to wind up the day with a band concert and fireworks in the evening, but the storm intervened and this part of the program was abandoned. The concert however was given in Music hall, and the fireworks were exploded Friday night.

At the gathering in Music hall the prizes were distributed and the announcement of the award of the judges on the parade made, which are given elsewhere.

S. O. Moxon, chief marshal of the day, was omnipresent, displaying good executive ability.

It is settled, at least, in the Noyes-Dana case, that a man cannot be dragged all over the country to answer to the complaint of an aggrieved party. Mr. Dana, the plaintiff, is a man of some means, and it is not surprising that he should be able to pay the expenses of his own case. The case is now before the Supreme Court, and it is expected that it will be decided in favor of the defendant.

—The highest price ever reached by real estate in this country was probably that paid for a small lot in the business part of New York city. Its size was 20 by 62 feet, and it brought $225,000, or about $300 the square foot.

—A. R. Hobart has a woodchuck about a month old that nurses from a bottle. This is a fact and anyone can see the performance by calling at his residence in East Braintree.—South Shore Press.

The Quincy Patriot.

The Day After.

All motionless the little boy
 Lies now upon his bed,
 His arm is tied up in a sling,
 A bandage covers his head.

Around each finger there is rolled
 A soft and soothing rag,
 While one of little Johnny's feet
 Is done up in a bag.

One eye, though twice its usual size,
 Looks no way of light,
 The other one, I grieve to say,
 Is closed almost at sight.

But Johnny smiles a smile of peace,
 And breathes a happy sigh;
 The light of joy beams deep within
 That large suspended eye.

For he alone possessed the nerve
 To lie flat on the ground,
 And let the other fellows all Strew cannon crackers round.

—Boston Courier.

Notes and Comments.

—Grand Chancellor James H. Flint has appointed George W. Pennington, a native of this city, as a grand instructor.

—The Brockton Enterprise says: "The old parlor car Puitan, that has passed through several accidents, notably the Quincy disaster, is now attached to the train which passes through Brockton at 12:30 for Boston."

—Hingham's tax rate is $10 on $1,000.

—The Weymouth Press says that Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cushing, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Smith, with Miss Pauline Jones of Quincy, are sojourning at Fort Point for a fortnight.

—The Attleboro Sun makes the prediction that within five years people will travel from Boston to New York by electricity, and that a good many of the steam railroad lines will be wiped out, together with the accompanying nuisance.

—Gas in Brockton is now $1.50 per thousand feet. The Board of gas commissioners recently decided that the Brockton Gas Company should not charge over that amount.

—The highest price ever reached by real estate in this country was probably that paid for a small lot in the business part of New York city. Its size was 20 by 62 feet, and it brought $225,000, or about $300 the square foot.

Electric Railroads.

The New York, New Haven, & Hartford railroad company, is likely to be the first in America to equip its line with electric motive power for long distance travel.

Railroad men all over the country are talking of the experiments made within the last few days on the Nantasket branch of the road and many of them agree that the steam road is doomed, in view of the results attained. With heavy trains a speed of from sixty to eighty miles an hour has been proven to be possible.

The trolley system is used, with a motor car of extraordinary power. The poles of the trolley line are set with unusual care, with such geometrical precision in fact, as to secure absolutely perfect alignment; that is to say, a person standing directly behind one pole cannot see another pole until the line curves. There is in one such stretch nearly a mile long between Point Allerton and Nantasket.

The poles are set in wooden caissons five feet deep and three feet wide, the space between the poles and caissons being filled with cement concrete. The erection of the line in this manner dispenses with all necessity for guy wires. The tracks are fifteen feet apart from center to center, and between them is the single row of poles upon which the supported cables and trolley wire cross arms.

The motor cars look like baggage cars with a cowcatcher in front. They weigh about 40,000 pounds apiece. Each is supplied with powerful air brakes, a fifteen inch gun, and a chime whistle worked with compressed air.

Experiments made recently showed that a load equal to a train of seven passenger cars could be started quickly and without a jolt, and run at any speed desired from twenty miles to eighty miles an hour. In a freight train, the motor car dragged heavily loaded freight cars without a quiver, and with plenty of power to pull the train was run at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour. Afterward the same result was obtained with five more heavily loaded freight cars added, increasing the haul to more than 450 tons.

The Nantasket branch is only seven miles long, but experiments have been so successful that there is every probability that before long electricity will have displaced steam on the whole of the New York, New Haven, and Hartford road. Other railroads will be sure to follow suit, and then at last it will be possible to travel rapidly and without the annoyances of engines, smoke, and noise.—South Shore Press.

Mr. Dana, the plaintiff, is a man of some means, and it is not surprising that he should be able to pay the expenses of his own case. The case is now before the Supreme Court, and it is expected that it will be decided in favor of the defendant.

—The highest price ever reached by real estate in this country was probably that paid for a small lot in the business part of New York city. Its size was 20 by 62 feet, and it brought $225,000, or about $300 the square foot.

—A. R. Hobart has a woodchuck about a month old that nurses from a bottle. This is a fact and anyone can see the performance by calling at his residence in East Braintree.—South Shore Press.

—It is settled, at least, in the Noyes-Dana case, that a man cannot be dragged all over the country to answer to the complaint of an aggrieved party. Poetry.
"The Fresh Summer Green."
BY JOHN KENDRICK BAKER.

I've gazed on a snow-covered field, and its white Has filled me with greatest joy and delight.
The leader of Scotland, its soft purple hue
Has brought to my senses a thrill, it is true;
And yet of all colors in nature, I deem,
There's none can compare to the fresh summer green.

The fresh summer green—
Its like no'er was seen.
No! There's none can compare to the fresh summer green—
"Harper's Bazar."

Scotch Picnic.
The sons and daughters of Scotia held their annual day's outing at Adams beach on Saturday. It should have been held July 4, but the weather being propitious. Although the early morning showed threatening signs it did not dampen the ardor of the average Scot. The committee in charge were by time and tide themselves off to the place of rendezvous. Tents were pitched, camp fires were kindled and clams dug, everything being in readiness when the picknickers got there, and everybody with a bit of Scotch in them and not a bit of the landlubber in them, was glad to be there, as it is looked upon as the gala time of the year. Every known means of locomotion was called into question to bring the parties together. The following is a list of the guests and their parties:

In some instances the parties were kindly invited:
Tossing caber—Norman Ross, first; John Wedderburn, second; R. Smith, third.
Running long jump—N. Ross, first; J. Wedderburn, second; R. Smith, third.
High jump—N. Ross, first; William Marshall, second; R. Smith, third.
One mile run—John Wood, first; N. Ross, second; William Marshall, third.
Single race—R. Smith, first; N. Ross, second; George Linley, third.
One-half mile run—D. T. Drummond, first; J. Wedderburn, second.
Standing high jump—N. Ross, first; R. Smith, second; William Marshall, third.
Married women's race—Mrs. John Wood, first; Mrs. D. T. Drummond, second; Mrs. William Pratt, third.
Young ladies' race—Mary F. Donald, first; Mary E. Cranford, second; Nellie Drummond, third.
Boys' race—Charles H. Chalmers, first; Charles M. Donald, second.
Girls' race—Nellie M. Drummond, first; Frances Murray, second.

After the games, a picnic was made to tents and tables where a sumptuous repast was awaiting. The following ladies had charged of and waited on the various tables: Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Cranford, Mrs. Chalmers, Mrs. Chalmers, Mrs. Donald, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Ross and Miss Jessie Wood.

Court in Quincy.
Officer Knights of Randolph had two queer individuals in Court Saturday in the person of Joseph Goddard and James J. McManus. According to Officer Knights the two young men came to Court and were calling upon the several clerks of the town, representing themselves as reporters of the Brockton Times.

Once admitted to the house, they would begin to abuse the clerk, saying they were inebriated and frauds, and producing a bottle would take a drink.

In the court, in telling their story to Judge Humphrey, McManus said he was writing a book on the subject of men and boys' clothing; and repair in the nearest manner.

SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1895.

"Clover."

As I sit by my open window,
In the radiant morning's glow,
I breathe a breath of the fragrant clover,
Like a dream of long ago.

With invisible power it binds me
In a chain of memories,
While the curtain of time folds backward
And my soul sees vision seen.

And the silence is filled with music,
Sounding from the spirit's sight;
Breathings out from the land of mystics,
Mingling with the morning light.

Dear ones, lost in the shadowy distance
Of the Past's restless tide,
Smile again in the old sweet gladness,
Smile and shine on me star-eyed.

As of old, they are hovering round me;
Oh, my dream is sweet—is sweet.
Father, mother, and sister, brother,
All in loving union meet.

Not a link in the chain is broken;
Memory binds it fast with love,
And my heart grows as quiet, gentle,
As the mild heart of a dove.

Ah, the deep, soulful eyes of my lost ones,
Like a benediction prayer,
Fill my soul with a heavenly brightness
That doth linger, linger there.

Sweet, ay, sweet is the breath of clover,
With its old-time memories;
Yea, and sweet is the after-feeling—
Pure, like passing harmonies.

—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

Notes and Comments.

Selling silver polish to support herself and father, Miss Foote, daughter of C. B. Foote, president of the late failed Commercial Bank of Cincinnati, goes from house to house daily. The young woman is well educated, but could find nothing to do. She manufactures and sells the polish, and what she makes supports herself and father and is their only income.

Mrs. Cleveland has presented her husband with another daughter—making the third in the President's family. It was at their summer resort at Buzzard's Bay on Sunday, July 7.

Nothing has been done the past year that will help the A. T. U. movement more than the riotous conduct of the foreign element at East Boston on the Fourth.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad has got control of the New York and New England road, it is reported, and will take possession about Sept. 1. Now the New Haven system consists of 331 miles New Haven division and 619 miles Old Colony division. Add the New England's mileage of 172 miles, and the total would be 1,122 miles.

A Brockton grocer, who is troubled as he is writing at his desk by flies walking over his head and polished plate, has rigged a paper fly chaser on a spring over his head, so that it can be operated by touching with one foot a spring connected under his desk. It creates disastrous results to the fly, but great comfort for the grocer.

The arrest of Harold Brown and John Ross, for killing John Willis, the East Boston rioter, will bring the whole episode to a close. The case is a tragedy before the proper tribunal for investigation. This is as it should be. The facts in the case are what the public want. No matter what the legal outcome of the affair may be, the American public should be founded upon a rock and is impregnable.

—Salem Gazette.

The newspapers note a remarkable change in public sentiment throughout the south and west in regard to the silver question. In this connection, the Boston Commercial Bulletin says: "The business interests of the country want to see that the work is successfully prosecuted to conclusion, and, more than that, give temporary politicians to understand that no tampering with the question will be permitted. International agreement on silver may be desirable, but until England is ready to meet the case fairly, no concession to silver must be made by us."

—Massachusetts may not grow as rapidly in population as some of the larger states, but its wealth continues to pile up steadily. It carried a fire insurance last year of $86,000,000, or about five times that of other States with about the same population.

The iron question is of much more importance to the country just now than the silver question. A few more advances in the price of iron will leave nothing of the silver question to talk about, says the Beverly Citizen.

The shirt waist fever promises to reach its height in Boston this week as that garment has been adopted as a sort of uniform for the sopranos and altos of the big Christian Endeavor chorus.

It costs $24 a minute to fire the new Maxim gun, but it only takes about two minutes to wipe out everything in sight. Another illustration of the fact that the best is the cheapest in the end.

New Yorkers spend a million dollars a year more on theatres than they do on churches.

The first electric schedule train on the Nantasket road made its run Sunday almost to a day sixty years after the first train ran over the steam railroad from Boston to Worcester. What will the next sixty year show, when the world has advanced into the middle of the twentieth century, the century of electricity?—South Shore Press.

Ex-Postmaster General Wanamaker thinks his life is worth $2,000,000, and has it insured that amount.

During the season just closed 75,000,000 lobsters, 45,000,000 codfish, and 6,000,000 flatfish or flounders have been hatched at the Woods Hole hatchery.

China with a population of 400,000,000 has only 100 physicians. But it can't be possible that this is the secret of its tremendous population.—Milford Journal.

One of Middleboro's residents has gone into the business of raising skulls for a living. He sells the skulls for about seventy-five cents apiece and makes money.

What a dignified place the shirt town is. Recently the selectmen refused to grant the Keyser's circus a license to perform in Dedham on the ground that "the dignity of the town must be preserved."

The Randolph Register reports over 100 tenements vacant in that town. As the large shoe factory of John Pease is to start up again before the times will not be so slow for Randolph as the past year has been.

Just What's Needed

Exclaims thousands of people who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla this season of the year, and who have noted the success of the medicine in giving them relief from that tired feeling, waning appetite and state of extreme exhaustion after the close confinement of a winter season, the busy time attendant upon a large and pressing business during the spring months and with vacation time yet some weeks distant. It is then that the building-up powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla are fully appreciated. It seems perfectly adapted to overcome that prostration caused by change of season, climate or life, and while it tones and maintains the system, it purifies and vitalizes the blood.

Hotel Guest—"Now, are you sure that this bed is quite clean?"

Maid—"Yes, sir, the sheets were only washed this morning."

Guest—"I feel 'em; they ain't dry yet!"—Tit-Bits.

New Pastor—"You say your wife husband died suddenly?"

Widow Buxton—"He did, sir; he wasn't long in."

New Pastor—"No long, weary months of suffering upon a bed of sickness was his lot, then?"

Widow Buxton—"No, sir; poor man."

New Pastor—"What did he die of?"

Widow Buxton—"Struck by lightning, sir."

"There's no doubt," said Mr. Dolan, "about that bolt's great advantage in being 'born in this country.'"

"Ah, phew! that's?" inquired Mrs. Dolan.

"It saves 'em the price of a steamship ticket over!"—Washington Star.

They sat in the twilight and talked of the past. "Hiram," she was saying, "just twenty years ago tonight I first became aware that you had kindled a flame in my heart."

"Yes, Anastasia."

"That," she mused, reflectively, "was about the last kindling I know of your doing, Hiram."

He did not speak for a long time. When he did it was concerning something else.

For the Patriot: Fashions at Saratoga.

Hotel Majestic, New York, July.

TRAVELING DRESSES.

A run up to Saratoga comes easily under the head of "nothing" and so close are the relations between the great Watering Place and Metropolis, that one seems merely an extension of the other. Observation of new arrivals at the former, shows the favor accorded traveling suits of alpaca or mohair, or in small checks or solid colors, and the regulation style of making, is a skirt and jacket, though trim and slightly pointed waists, with chemises, are likewise in order. Light quality cloth suits are similarly made.

DRESSY GOWNS

are perpetually of taffeta silk or crepon, and may be set down as the leading thing. Crepon, however, is a term of wide significance, and embraces an apparently limitless variety from delicate chiffon crepons, to rich, stately fabrics that eminently become tall, slender women.

Delicately textured crepons in all over floral patterns, vie with chene silks of color, and the regulation style of making, is a skirt and jacket, though trim and slightly pointed waists, with chemises, are likewise in order. Light quality cloth suits are similarly made.

PICTUREQUE APPEARANCE

of a beauty who carries a flower trimmed parasol, wears a collar made entirely of flowers, and a hat lavishly trimmed in flowers, the delicate aroma of Murray and Lannan's Florida water, is made to simulate nature's soft perfume, the fragrance captivating. An apology for bicycle suits and caps is complete, and goes to show that the new woman intends after all to remain a woman. The prominent white continues to be remarkable. Entirely white outfits greet one on every hand or there is nothing in more favor than a white parasol, sailor hat, collar, cuffs, belt and shoes. The prominent white continues to be remarkable. Entirely white outfits greet one on every hand or there is nothing in more favor than a white parasol, sailor hat, collar, cuffs, belt and shoes.

GRASS LINEN

for entire dresses, however, is fast asserting supremacy. Really there is nothing beyond poplin fancy, and the new white fabric and it must be classed with yellow lace in the worst possible taste as a rule, is still extremely fashionable. Now and then one sees a supremely beautiful series in varied shades of yellow and in this connection, the objectionable accuracy of the material or let in as an insertion. Among shown for the Saratoga belle, especial mention should be made of new vintages of smelling bottles of Chinese manufacture, the having been introduced into vogue. They are hollowed out by hand after months of labor, from amber, rock crystal, sard, chaledony and other hard stones and have the advantage it is a relief to the eye, and the new white fabric and it must be classed with yellow lace in the worst possible taste as a rule, is still extremely fashionable. Chickens are more apt to be healthy if not allowed to grow themselves on any place. Contrive that they shall make some effort to obtain the greater part of their food, and only a little at a time. Exercise must have.

ALCOHOL HINDERS LABOR. I have the evidence of my own personal experience and the experience of the enormous numbers of people who have become every year, and I state that alcohol is not a helper of work, but a certain hinderer of work; and every man who comes to the front of a profession in London is marked by this one characteristic: that the more busy he gets the less in the shape of alcohol he takes, and his excuse is; "I am sorry but I cannot take it and do my work."—DR. ANDREW CLARK.

MALT LIQUORS WORSE. As a general rule I hesitate not to aver, as my settled conviction, that malt liquors are more deleterious in their effect on the human system than ardent spirits.—DR. CHAS. A. LEE.

GENERAL EFFECT OF STIMULANTS. The daily use of intoxicating liquors, tobacco, or even strong tea or coffee must be more or less injurious. At the best they are only luxuries, and, as such, only to be used on special occasions and in small quantities. We have fully demonstrated the truth that whenever a man has much bodily or mental work to do, or whenever his energy becomes more or less exhausted either by disease or otherwise, the worse possible course for him to pursue is to take a stimulant.—DR. JAMES MUIR HOWIE.

TO LATER GENERATIONS. The heredity of alcohol is now beyond dispute. It is no mere dream of an abstinence enthusiast, but the operation of a natural law; no fanciful creation of a nephritic brain, but an acknowledged fact. Men and women on whom this dread inheritance has been forced without their consent are every where around us, bravely struggling to lead a pure and sober life; and would it be but an act of justice to make every family, every home, and every land safe for all such afflicted ones by the expulsion of all intoxicating beverages from our sacred services, from our social gatherings, and from within our borders.—DR. NORMAN KEAR.

Did you ever see one of the famous waterproofed Interlined Cuffs or Cuffs? It's very easy to tell, for they are all marked this way

TRADE MARK.

They are the only Interlined Cuffs and Cuffs, and are made of linen, covered with waterproof "CELLULOID". They'll stand right by you day in and day out, and they are all marked this way

TRADE MARK.

The first cost is the only cost, for they keep clean a long time, and when soiled you can clean them in a minute by simply wiping off with a wet cloth—that is the kind marked this way

TRADE MARK.

The dollars and cuffs will outlast six linen ones. The wearers escape laundry trials and laundry bills—no chafed neck and no wilting down if you get a collar marked this way

TRADE MARK.

Ask your dealer first, and take nothing that has not above trade mark, if you desire perfect satisfaction. All others are imitations absolutely.

If you can't find cuffs or cuffs marked this way, we'll send you a sample postpaid on receipt of price. Cuffs, 25 cts. each. Cuffs 50 cts. each. Give your size and say whether straight up or turned-down collar is wanted. THE CELLULOID COMPANY, 427-29 Broadway, NEW YORK.

"For years I had suffered from falling of the womb, inflammation of the stomach, and weakness of the female organs."

"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and found a perfect cure in it for three troubles."

How
To Bake.
Facts are stubborn, but it's a fact that there's more dissatisfaction with life and its living by those who are unsuccessful in cooking and the people who are compelled to endure its results, than with anything else we know of. It's not to be wondered at, but here's a way out of the difficulty.
Don't blame the cook, it's not her fault; own a GLEN-WOOD range, the greatest baker on earth. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

New Church Bell.

Many have probably heard a strange bell ringing at intervals the past day or two. The Swedish Lutheran society and friends have been quietly at work of late and Thursday a large bell was raised to their church belfry. It was adjusted Friday and some could not resist the temptation to test its tone. Dedicatory services will be held Saturday afternoon.

The work was begun some time ago by two auxiliary societies of the church, to raise the necessary funds, but when Henry H. Faxon, Esq., heard of the effort, he generously volunteered to give the necessary $500. It was afterwards learned that this sum would procure a bell of about the same weight as the one on the Congregational church, which weighs 1700 pounds, and is in the key of F sharp. The bell on the First church weighs 3077 pounds, and in the key of D. Mr. Faxon added $50 to the $250 and a bell weighing 2207 in F was secured.

It is therefore the second largest bell in the city, and of a rich musical sound. It is suitably inscribed and was photographed Thursday.

The bell will be rung for the services on Sunday, and after a new plan for Quincy. For the morning service at 10.30 it will ring at 10 for five minutes; at 10.45 for four minutes and at 10.50 for three minutes. For the evening service at 7.30 it will ring at 7 and 7.30.

The more bells the merrier, and we congratulate the young society. Many older churches are without bells.

Young Men's Christian Assoc.

An unusually interesting meeting was held in the Association rooms last Sunday afternoon. Short addresses were given by Rev. E. N. Hardy, of the Congregational church, Rev. E. W. Miller of Boston, Pa., Rev. Dr. McLeod, of Thorburn, Nova Scotia. Rev. Mr. Miller spoke of the work of the Brotherhood of Andrew and Phillip, of which he is the founder and president. It is an organization of christian young men of the church, who are banded together for the purpose of drawing other young men into the church. The pastors present were much interested in hearing the account of the organization and it is to be hoped that before many months branches of the brotherhood may be organized in some of the Quincy churches.

A meeting for Italian young men was held in the Association rooms at 10 o'clock last Sunday morning, which was addressed by Mr. Agide Pirazzini, general secretary of the Rome, Italy, Association. Much interest has been aroused by the young men in the Italian nationality because of the special interest which the association is taking in them this summer. Another meeting will be held next Sunday morning at ten o'clock, which will be open to all Italian young men. On Saturday evening, July 27, a reception will be given them in the Association rooms.

The Monday evening Bible class continues to interest a few of the young men. They are now studying the history of the early church in the book of Acts. The boys' camp will open August 9, at Silver Lake. All boys who intend to join the camp must make application at once. "The Evangelization of Italy" will be the subject of an address Sunday afternoon at 3.30 in the Association rooms. The speaker will be Mr. Agide Pirazzini, of Rome, Italy, who will tell the story of his own remarkable conversion.

Old Colony Grocers.

The Old Colony Grocers and Provision Dealers' Union will hold their third annual picnic at Base Point, Nahant, Wednesday, July 24th. Tickets, including dinner and round trip on boat from Boston, $1.50. The committee will endeavor to make this picnic as enjoyable as possible, and are now arranging for a great number of sports. There will be a ball game, tub race, foot, sack and fat man's race, standing high jump, and many others. Suitable prizes for each will be given.

Our friend George, of S. S. Sleeper & Co., assures all a good smoke, Friend Sprague, of Sprague Bros., has a pig in training, and he says the boys will have as easy time catching him as they did last year, for he is a real pig.

Messrs. Edridge, Baker & Bain have contributed a barrel of their Cornish chickens.

The Simpson Spring Co. informs us that they will be on hand again this year with abundance of that fine lemonade.

Mr. Sawyer, agent for Hires' root beer, donates some of their carbonated root beer. George A. Fales & Co., of Sears & Co., of Saville, Messrs. & Co., have kindly offered to contribute to committee prizes for the races.

Committee: Andrew McNeil, Hingham; Josephus Sampson, Braintree; F. L. Clark, Rockland; E. W. Noyes, Whitman. —New England Grocer.

John Hancock.

"Our Debt to John Hancock," written by Frederic Allison Tupper, headmaster of the Quincy High school, was the subject of the concert recitation by pupils of the John Hancock school at the graduation exercises in June. The Patriot is pleased to reproduce it.

To the fathers of the American revolution we owe a debt that never can be fully paid. In the glorious list of names that must forever command our gratitude and affection, John Hancock's will always have a prominent place. It was characteristic of his love of freedom that, even before the "spirit of '76" had animated the American nation, he gave the name of "Liberty" to one of his ships. It was deeply significant of "coming events" that the seizure of the "Liberty" by officers of the British crown was followed by a riot.

Hancock was a fearless defender of his country's rights. He it was who pronounced the announcement of surprising eloquence over the victims of the Boston Massacre, and, so, greatly angered the government of the King. Indeed, it was as much to seize Hancock and Adams, as to destroy munitions of war, that the British marched to Lexington and Concord, and thus brought on the Revolutionary War.

Hancock and Adams enjoyed the proud distinction of being exempted from the royal pardon promised by Gage to all other Americans who would submit. But threats of punishment could not daunt the heroic soul of this unflinching patriot. As President of the Continental Congress, he showed his contempt for tyranny, and his confidence in the successful issue of the cause which he had championed, by signing the Declaration not only a man, but as any other signatory was expected to it, but in a hand so clear and bold that "the King of England could read it without spectacles."

He lived to see the complete triumph of those principles for which he had died. Quincy is proud of him, for he is one of her distinguished sons. Here his early life was spent; here "he found a wife," the beautiful Dorothy Quincy, who used to live just across the way. As Governor of Massachusetts, he signed the act by which Quincy became a separate town.

How shall we pay our debt of gratitude? By emulating the virtues of our heroic patriot, by honoring his memory, and by pledging to each other our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor "in defense of our beloved land."

It is reported that there are three children in a family on South Walnut street which has just returned from the National Educational convention at Denver, Col.

One side of the highway is occupied by looking old Fitchburg, and is a handsome structure both outside and interiorly. Mr. Faxon's connection with various newspapers is extensive and important, and from the beginning his business life has been one of progress and success.

WOLLASTON.

Every meeting in the evangelical churches of Boston and its neighborhoods Sunday, may fairly be called an "overflow" of the great convention held in Boston; and that in the Baptist church, in Wollaston, Sunday evening, was certainly no exception in this regard. The Rev. C. E. Endeavorers of that ward united their forces for the occasion, and the Baptist, Methodist, and Congregational societies all entered heartily into the union, and these congregations were amalgamated in an assemblage that completely filled the Baptist church of worship.

Mr. Novell O. Parker and family of Belmont street start today for Alexandria, N. H., for three weeks' vacation.

A. L. Baker, real estate agent of Wollaston, has sold for N. G. Nickerson the apartment house on Central avenue to A. P. Messer of Roxbury, and also five lots of land for the same party located on Central avenue and Taylor street.

During the summer vacation (until September 1st) the Junior School library of the Wollaston Unitarian church is to be open for the delivery of books from 5.30 to 6.30 p. m. every Sunday. Free use of the books is offered not only to members of the school and church but to all residents of Wollaston.

The ladies of the Methodist Episcopal church, Wollaston, will give their annual lawn party to the children of the Sunday School on Wednesday afternoon and evening next, July 24. It will be held on Everett street opposite the residence of Mrs. Siles, commencing at 3 p. m. The parents of the children and all friends of the Sunday School are cordially invited. Refreshments will be served with ice cream and lemonade.

Charles B. Hall of Wollaston is visiting relatives at Taunton.

Mr. George E. Holmes of Wollaston has been enjoying a yachting trip along the eastern coast.

Mrs. Charles H. Brigham of Wollaston is at South Wolfboro', Lake Winnepesaukee, for the summer.

THE SPALDING ROAD RACER.

—A fig tree growing in the open air and bearing fruit is not a frequent sight about here, but Mr. Samuel Dickson has one in his garden on Mayflower street, Plymouth, which is in a very thrifty condition, and bearing a crop of fifty-three figs. The season will be long enough to ripen the fruit, and Mr. Dickson will be able to satisfy of eating a tropical product of his own raising.—Old Colony Memorial.

—Boston's commission, appointed by Mayor Curtis to investigate the report of a net debt of the city, excluding the water debt, of $43,000,000. Its opinion is that the time has come for a halt in borrowing and to raise the rate of taxation.—Somerville Citizen.

—Lenora Isadora Cousins, the richest woman in the world, whose fortune is estimated at $200,000,000, is contemplating taking up her residence in this country.

—The oath that will grant engineers' licenses under the new law in this state has already been considered a sufficient cause for revoking a license. This makes a law rather practical and effective time-percentage agency.

—There were seventeen nationalities represented in the Y. P. S. C. E. convention in Boston.

—One day recently a man was seen walking with a woman in Canton who was known to him. He said that he had met her from New Haven and that the woman's shoes had given out so that they had to be thrown away.

—The rate of taxes in Franklin for 1895 has been fixed at $15.50.

—The Stoughton assessors report the town population 5653, and the number of polls 1514.

—The phrase "old woman" formerly conveyed a meaning of disrespect, and was generally uttered in a sneering and contemptuous tone but in contrast to the "new woman" it has recently acquired a very different meaning. Hannah, the "old woman," she does not wear bloomers and she would not vote if she could.—Gardner News.

—The Norfolk Suburban Street railway is doing a good business these days. Last week the company's cars carried over 44,000 passengers.—Dedham Transcript.

—The Massachusetts gas and electric light commission has peremptorily ordered the Woonsocket Electric Light Company to furnish gas lights after July 15, in Blackstone, at a rate not to exceed 42 cents per night. The Woonsocket manager, in his reply, practically tells the commission to mind its own business, and also stating that the company will fight in court, any attempt to invalidate its rights in Massachusetts.

—It is expected the commission will appeal to the courts to allow the electric light company's franchise in Blackstone, thus allowing a monopoly to come in.

—Dean's Rheumatic Pill absolutely cures Rheumatism. Instant vegetable soap.

The Rain.

GRACIOUS ROBERTS.

The evening breeze chilly blow
Adown the mists and eerie river:
Beneath the willows on the shore
The rushes quiver.

Between the tree-tops darkly green
The summer stars are whitely shining;
A cloud above the rounded moon
Shows silver lining.

Like tiny symbols fairy-wrought
The ruffled waves are overhead climbing
With pulsing beats that come and go
In wordless rhyming.

The dusky leaves of watching trees
With breeze blown palms to heaven lifted, Wave out entreaties to the rain
Where clouds have drifted.

And sigh for rain; the mosses green
Are dry within the dewless dragging
Of heated hours whose weary march
Is slow and lagging.

But hark! Upon the shadowed air
A wakened bird is lightly trilling
In joyous song with clear, low strains,
The woodland filling.

A rain song: linking note by note
The sweet, instinctive, airy madness
That prophesies the coming shower
With tuneful gladness.

And dark across the blinded moon
The ragged clouds are slowly trailing,
As hastening down the woodland way
The wind is calling.

The welcome drops leap down the sky
And dapple all the flowing river;
And fall like kisses on the leaves
That bend and quiver.

The bird is gone; in some safe nook
To listening mate is softly calling;
While hour by hour the fragrant rain
Is gently falling.

Notes and Comments.

—The Trust has advanced the prices on window glass 25 per cent. all over the country.

—The president of Saratoga says there must be no gambling there. Why don't he decree that there shall be no stars in the heavens and that woodchucks shall grow without hair, and have done with it? One exploit is as easy as the other.—Milford Journal.

—There is a bright boy in New York who makes $5 or more a week by sharpening pencils for the people in the dry goods district, and furnishing them with new pencils. He will get along in the world.

—A farmer informs the Charlestown, P. E. I. Patriot that an insect resembling an ant has appeared in his immense field of potatoes, and within a day or two has completely destroyed the potato buds. The parasite eats the bug, leaving nothing but the shell, and seems to possess an insatiable appetite. The same insect was reported in another section of the state last year, and no bugs were left where this parasite had visited. "This new exterminator would seem to be worth importing into the States free of duty."

—A salient feature of the coming Bay State Fair at Worcester, is to be the daily exhibit. Special efforts will be made to make it one that will justify what is best in the daily interests of the entire State of Massachusetts, and it will be the first attempt at a complete display of the products of Massachusetts dairies. O. A. Essex should be at the front in this commendable competition. Mr. George M. Butcher, editor of the New England Farmer, and our Grange Home, and acting executive officer of the State Dairy Bureau, has been appointed superintendent of this department, and full particulars can be obtained of him.—Salem Gazette.

Visit to Plymouth.

The Memorial tells the following incidents connected with the Endeavorers visit to Plymouth:

An intelligent "guide" on Burial Hill, told an Endeavorer who wished to understand the phenomenon of the tide, which he saw had fallen for the first time in the water on round Beach Point, and he "believed it came back most every day."

One of the comical sights was a Western woman digging for a clam in Town Dock. Seizing her prize, she lifted her draperies and passed through the mud to the water, where she washed her nice ruffled shoes, and later, when they turned white, wondered what the matter was with them.

Give the Fly a Chance.

G. P. Yale of Clinton, Iowa, writes to the Scientific American the following facts about flies:

I have five windows in my office and would like to tell you how I have kept them free of flies. I have a wire in each window screen and have a fly in each of them. Give the fly a chance and he will go out. First place the frame on the outside of the window, the wire to be on the inside of the window. Nail on the mousing at each side and at the bottom to cover the ends of the wires, but let the wire coil extend over and nail on the top of the frame. Put no mousing at the top of the frame. If you give the flies a chance, they will walk up the screen and walk up and out. Take any common window screen and place it on the outside, but instead of closing the space at the top, take a hammer and pull the top mousing off from the screen. The space then is opened between the top of the screen and the sash. When you draw down the window shade half way, or down to the top of the screen, and the open space thus left across the top, you will see the flies go to the light and walk up the screen and go out. All the flies that come in from the screen door when it is opened go to the window screens and thus go out.

Water Tees.

Water tees are inexpensive, delicious and seasonable. They are a trifle more troublesome to make and require a much longer time in freezing, but their least cost is more than compensation. The recipe given is for lemon ice, but with the variations of a little less sugar and of other fruits, it may be used with either oranges, pineapples, raspberries, strawberries, cherries and currants. A sash may be made by adding, just before packing in the tin, the white of an egg beaten to a stiff froth, into which has been mixed a tablespoonful of fine sugar.

To make the lemon water ice, boil for five minutes exactly one quart of water and one pound and a quarter of white sugar, to which has been added the rind of three lemons and of one orange. Remove whatever scum and skins that may be on the surface through a muslin bag. When cool mix the juice of four lemons and of one orange with the syrup; strain a second time and freeze.—Ladies' Home Journal.

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

At the present day a ton of diamonds is worth about $35,000.

American sheep last year grew wool to the extent of 37,100,000 pounds.

Sea water is said to contain all the soluble substances that exist on the earth.

The area of Boston is 37 square miles; that of Chicago is 189 square miles.

Candies were first used symbolically on the altars of churches in the fourth century.

The fishermen along our coasts and in our waters catch $45,000,000 worth of fish every year.

Of all the nations, the histories of ancient Greece and Britain most resemble each other.

A drum of wood, with one drumstick, was not long ago found in a royal tomb near Thebes.

Analysis proves that white corn has about one per cent. more muscle-forming element than yellow.

Within a radius of 1000 miles of Malta nine-tenths of the vegetable foodstuffs of the world are grown.

Pope Telephorus of the second century, D. A. D., instituted Christmas, the great Christian festival.

The ground has only been lightly covered with snow at Mobile, Ala., five times during the last 75 years.

The longest continuous street railway in the United States is the 42 mile strip from Lowell to Haverhill, Mass.

The purposes of the Almighty are perfect, and must prove to the suffering mortals may feel accurately to perceive them in advance.

Agricultural.

The whole secret of raising seedling cucumbers lies in covering the first joint of the vine after it starts to "run" and then cutting the vine from the original stalk as soon as the joint takes root.

Plenty of good feed for a cow is all right, but it will not make a good cow out of an inferior milker. The constitutional characteristics of a cow have more to do with the amount and quality of her milk than does her feed. But, however, are very important matters.

When the thermometer is up in the nineties and the rays of the sun are bright is just the time to kill weeds. They may take root and live if the soil is cool and damp, but when they are turned up and exposed to the dry heat of a hot summer day they are destroyed as if with fire.

In southwestern Louisiana is what is probably the largest farm in the world. It is one hundred miles long and twenty-five wide, containing 1,500,000 acres.

Farmers in the potato section of Maine report a prospect of a large yield. Salt the soil, and the potatoes will be worth twenty-five cents a bushel in the fall.

Celery plant set out now in rich, moist, sandy soil will mature a good crop. Modern growers do not plant celery in trenches, but set it in ordinary rows, like cabbage, five inches apart in rows four feet distant. Liquid manure will greatly hasten the growth of the plant.

The solid manure should be well rotted and thoroughly mixed with the soil. The cultivation is like that of late cabbagees, until banking up time, which is from September 1st to the middle of October according to variety and the time when the crop is to be used.—Plymouthman.

A corn stalk 12 feet in height is the boast of a Mohawks County, Ia., Agricultural society.

Thunder-Storms.

It is not altogether unreasonable or unnatural that we should sometimes be so seriously affected by thunder-storms. A severe storm brings us near the possibilities of disaster, and that thought is sufficient to intimidate a nervous or a delicate woman. Some women—very many—under far more trying circumstances show great nerve and self-control—are almost prostrated from nervousness and excitement during a storm, and can find no closet dark or safe enough in which to conceal and alleviate their fears.

Very often the electricity in the atmosphere has an uncontrollable influence upon the nerves, and women are hardly responsible for what they do.

It is certainly easier to fear, and for those around them, if they act as they feel. At the same time they should remember the example they show to others, and how easily those who are ignorant, and especially the little children who are around them, will partake of their fears.

Every day we are exposed to dangers more serious than those caused by thunder-storms. The accidents from lightning are very few. The fact that the storm is beyond all human control, and so awe-inspiring to us, and to bear, is the foundation of our fears.

The accidents that may occur on the railroad trains, the street cars, and in riding and driving are rarely so to consider, and yet we are exposed to them far more often, and under many more chances of danger, than we are in the rare occurrence of severe thunder-storms.

In an ordinary house there is as safe as another danger from a thunder storm. To sit on a feather bed in the middle of the room is an old-fashioned idea, for if the lightning strikes the top of the house, it is apt to take direct line down the side until it reaches the ground. So to be away from the wall is considered a safeguard. It is useless to sit and watch for the flash of lightning that you think is going to strike you—many deaths have resulted from this. The real danger lies where you never can see or know of it until it is over and gone.

So it is best for the women who suffer from such nervousness to show as much courage as they do in other circumstances of life—where generally is a great deal—and to remember that every cloud has a silver lining, even the clouds that gather in a thunder-storm.—Harper's Bazar.

A Humorous Fact

About Hood's Sarsaparilla—it expels bad humor and creates good humor. A battle for blood is what Hood's Sarsaparilla vigorously fights, and it is always victorious. It expels foul taints and gives the vital fluid the quality and quantity of perfect health. Hood's Sarsaparilla, salt, rheum, boils and other blood diseases.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the bowels and liver.

No man has any more religion than he is able to show up in his daily life.

THE GREEN LEAF

Has one very desirable suite of three rooms, also one of two rooms, to let. The hotel is heated by steam and lighted by gas and electricity, and has been recently remodelled and refurnished, and with its excellent cafe offers special inducements to families and permanent guests. Has a small hall to let for club and society meetings. Dinners or suppers for sale a specialty.

ICED CHOCOLATE. Put four ounces sweet chocolate, one-half pint water and scant half cup sugar in saucepan to melt, stir until perfectly smooth. Put one quart of cream in boiler, heat but gradually to chocolate mixture, beat thoroughly and when cold strain, add one teaspoonful of vanilla and freeze.

LOBSTER CROQUETTES. Take the meat from the shell, chop fine, mix with a little salt, pepper and powdered macaroni. Add to the meat one-fourth as much bread crumbs, make it up into balls with melted butter, brush the balls with yolk of egg, roll lightly in crumbs, and fry. Serve with gravy, or, if dry, with parsley garnish.

RICK A LA MACARONI. Arrange in a baking dish a layer of boiled rice, season with salt, pepper and bits of butter, cover this layer of grated cheese, and so on alternately, using cheese for the top. Moisten well with milk or, still better, cream, and strew the top with rolled crackers. Bake for twenty minutes, or until the top is a light brown.

CLAMS AU GRATIN. These are to be cooked in shells, and are to be the uncooked clams taken from their shells. They should be chopped, and to a cupful of clams have a cupful of fine cracker or bread crumbs, reserving some of the crumbs for the top of the mixture, before it is placed in the oven. Add to the chopped clams and crumbs, a dessertspoonful of finely chopped onion, a scant spoonful of prepared majonnaise, thyme and sage, a sprinkling of celery salt, some cayenne pepper, and some salt. Moisten with the broth of the clams, fill the buttered shells, sprinkle the crumbs over the top, and bake for twenty minutes.

GREEN CORN PIE. Cut up two young chickens and stew them nicely with plenty of butter and gravy. Take a quart of grated or cut green corn; the yolks of three eggs; a heaping spoonful of butter, salt, pepper and a pinch of cayenne. Mix the corn, yolks and butter together, and add a cupful of fresh tomato juice strained through a sieve. Butter a deep baking dish and line it with this mixture. Put in half of the chicken and gravy, spread over it half of the remaining batter, then the rest of the chicken, cover it with what remains of the corn batter, and bake in a moderately hot oven until well done.

In a New Form.

The Producer and Builder has adopted a new and more useful form of the Vegetable Compound. It has also changed in form, and as an illustrated magazine will doubtless be more acceptable to its readers and even more successful in its publication. Last Hunt & Co., of Boston. Improvements are promised with succeeding numbers.

Effects of Alcohol.

Alcohol, as known by scientists, weakens the system. All the minute blood vessels that let the blood pass through them into the extreme parts of the body are reduced in power, so that they fill with blood, and the face gets flushed, and the brain gets flushed, and the lungs get flushed and the breathing becomes quick; and the heart increases in its beating some four strokes a minute or two hundred and forty strokes an hour, or at the rate of 5,700 extra strokes in an entire day.—Dr. B. W. RICHARDSON.

ABSTAINERS SOONEST CURED. I have had, for the last seven years, much experience in the medical attendance upon persons who are total abstainers. During that period hundreds of that class of persons have been under my care. I find that as a class they do not suffer from anything like the amount of sickness experienced by moderate drinkers of intoxicating drinks; that, when they are sick, the sickness is much more amenable to treatment, and, necessarily, they are sooner well again. Moreover, I am convinced that, in many cases, the patient's recovery was entirely owing to a life of previous abstinence from intoxicating beverages.—Dr. HENRY MUNROE.

HOW AN ADVERTISEMENT SAVED A WOMAN'S LIFE.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LATE READERS.)

For four years I suffered with female troubles. I was so bad that I was compelled to have assistance from the bed to the chair. I tried all the doctors and all the medicines that I thought would help me.

One day, while looking over the paper, I saw the advertisement of the Vegetable Compound. I thought I would try it. I did so, and found relief. I was in bed when I first began to take the Compound. After taking four bottles, I was able to get up and walk around, and now I am doing my household work. Many thanks to Pinkham for her wonderful Compound. It saved my life.—Mrs. HATTIE MADAMS, 184 North Clark Street, Chicago, Ill.

More evidence in favor of that never-failing female remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

A quiver of heat on the upland,
And white lies the dust on the plain,
And dark in the west is the beauty
Of the low cloud that brings the rain.
Swift from the nest wing the robins,
And fleet to the hive wing the bees,
And straight to the mother the children
Run down the long path through the trees.
By the farm gate the mother is waiting,
Her hand followed over her eyes;
One wants to dash children about her
When tempests mark black in the skies.
And safe is the gay little farm-house,
And strong the rain-hat being aloft,
And the tramp of the rain-hat as steady
As hoofs-beats upon the old roof.

"Blueberry-time, and the pasture
High up on the old hill-top,
With the fragrance of hay, and the incense
Of flowers you crush 'neath your feet.
The stone wall is crisscrossed with briars,
The clambering tangling spray,
The deep, vine-clad plane of the sumac
Uplifts like a soldier's at bay.
Blueberry-time, and the mother
Remembers how she, in her day,
Tripped up the steep path by the pasture,
The path her father had made today.
And some one was waiting to greet her,
Up there by the old meadow bars,
And they lingered and lingered together
Till evening had lighted the stars.
Ah, well! time has passed, she is older,
And the path is no longer so gay,
To the husband, who peacefully dozes,
Tired out after long working days.
The rain dries away in soft patters,
The children are growing a-sleepy,
God guards them, the dear little family
His angels are ordered to keep.

Notes and Comments.

"Three young ladies walked down the street in Brockton the other evening, who attracted considerable attention. The reason was that from the right ear of two of the girls depended peanuts instead of earrings. They bore the scrutiny of the on-lookers with a totally unconcerned air.

—Manager Turner of the Standish House, Duxbury, has on his piazza two chairs which have a history. They were bought at New York City, and were part of the furnishings of a prominent resort of the Tammany ring, one being used by Boss Tweed, and the other by Peter B. Sweeney.

"It now appears that nearly 50,000 Knights Templars will be in Boston the last of August. The display will be a gorgeous one.

"Fifty years ago Mr. George Hersey opened the store which he and his son now occupy under the firm name of Geo. Hersey & Co. at West Hingham. The half century that has passed has made great changes in the trade at Hingham as it has in most other towns. It was the custom then to buy from small quantities—now seven pounds at a time—tea by the 2 ounces or quarter of a pound, sugar by the pound or half pound. At that time no one in the grocery business thought of dealing goods by customer order. People went to the store made their purchases and carried them home.—Hingham Journal.

"A Brockton photographer is taking pictures by a novel process, by which the sitter is so placed between two large mirrors that four reflections are shown and photographed at the time the real subject is in front view, back view, a half side, three-quarters side and profile views.

"The Beverly Citizen appeared last week in a new dress and made a very neat appearance. It is an excellent weekly and deserves the success it is receiving.

"New Bedford is rapidly growing, both in population and industrial importance, and when the census results taken, should be declared it expects to loom up as the seventh city in population in the state.

"Nearly 10,000 murders are annually committed in the United States. About 90 out of every 100 of them are committed by men.

"It is now unlawful to employ any but American citizens on work in Pennsylvania. The law imposing this condition was passed at the instance of the labor organization, and its expected effect is an increase of wages on account of the diminished number of men who can be hired.

"A half century ago the manufacture of buckets and boxes by hand was a large industry in Hingham. Today there is but one man engaged in the business. Mr. Nelson Corbitt, who has arrived at an advanced age, and who can not possibly find time for more than half a year's work.—Hingham Journal.

"L. H. Hatch, proprietor of the Whitman Times, has recently made an extensive purchase of real estate at Lynn. It includes a large lot of land, a $25,000 residence, a smaller residence, hot houses, etc. Mr. Hatch will still further improve the property by having built a $8000 house, the contracts for which have been given out. Mr. Hatch is one of the largest real estate owners in Whitman.—Bridgewater Independent.

"The Plymouth County Press says: The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No paper can afford to give advertising or 'notices' free, any more than can a merchant can lose the customer. The gifts of good goods or shoes. Newspapers are legitimate business institutions; its columns are its stock in trade, and announcements that are calculated to stimulate patronage in any way should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

"A machine which will pick one barrel of cranberries a minute without injury to the vine is said to be in the experimental stage. When this gets into general use there will be no demand for hand labor.

"It used to be doubted whether it was practicable to make electric motors strong enough to drag heavy railroad trains. Now experience has shown that electric motors can out-pull steam locomotives. On the Nantasket beach road the other day, a big locomotive was hitched to one end of a heavy train, and an electric motor car was hitched to the other end. Then both locomotive and motor pulled for all they were worth, in opposite directions. The train held together, and the motor dragged the train and opposing engine easily.—Somerville Journal.

"A man in Charlestown offered Mr. Perkins of state highway commission $50 if he would build a mile of state road in that town. Mr. Perkins refused to let the district engineer, who saw that the would-be briber was fined $400. Judging by the fact that he is being made in some sections, a man could build a mile of 'state road' for $400.—New Bedford Standard.

"Every school house in Japan has a portrait of the emperor. How many school houses in the United States have portraits of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln?

"John Wannamaker explains his theory of constant advertising by this illustration: 'One big dinner won't keep the reputation of the house, but steady, good cooking does it.'

Out-Door Notes.

Among the many forms of athletic exercise which are being advocated at present, the good old fancy that they shut out all the rain in hot weather, and, besides, they serve to keep the flies in the house equally as well as out."

"I never see a fly in your house," said the good housekeeper. "From so many things. For my part, I must confess that, screens or no screens, my summer means to me one long battle with the little pests."

"My remedy is a very simple one," said the good housekeeper. "I will tell you. I have years ago from my grandmother, when I used to sit and watch her putting bunches of lavender flowers around to keep the flies away. My method is simpler. I buy five cents' worth of oil of winter at the drug store and mix it with the same quantity of water. Then I put it in a common glass atomizer and spray it around the rooms wherever flies are apt to congregate, especially in the dining room, where I sprinkle it plentifully over the table linen. The odor is especially disagreeable to flies and they will never venture in its neighborhood, though to most people in a peculiarly fresh and grateful smell.—Detroit Free Press.

Milton's New Superintendent.

The school committee of Milton have unanimously elected as superintendent of schools, in place of Mr. Charles H. Morse, who has accepted a call to Medford, Myron W. Richardson, lately of Brookline, Mass. Mr. Richardson was educated in the schools of Cambridge. He is a graduate of the Brookline grammar school, of the class of 1877, of the English High school, class of 1880; Boston Latin school, class of 1883, and Harvard University, class of 1886. He took his degree, "summa cum laude," and is a member of the Phi Beta Kappa society. His father, a well known educator, connected with the High school at Omaha, as a teacher of science; and from 1892 to 1894 he was principal of the High school at Lincoln, Neb. For the last year he has been principal of the Lincoln (Grammer) school and Manual Training (High) school of Brookline, Mass., and has also had charge of the chemistry throughout the town. His record in Brookline has been spoken of in the highest terms by members of the school committee, and he brings unusually strong letters of recommendation from the west.—Norfolk County Gazette.

Black America.

There is just one big entertainment in Boston this summer, and that is "Black America." It is no exaggeration to say that so similar entertainment ever made in the United States. The idea that young people on the Huntington Avenue Circus Grounds. Night after night the grand stand is filled with people, and at the Wednesday and Saturday matinees, the seats are filled with people. The reason why these performances are especially gotten up. The songs are the old plantation songs, campmeeting melodies, and weird negro chants which contain so much real musical value. Of course it is not the same as the songs of the white people or Northern negroes, but to hear them really sung, you must attend a performance of "Black America." The whole spectacle stands for, simply a natural, every day, every night, a pageant of Southern life in the days before the rebellion. "Black America" will be presented every evening at 8 o'clock and on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons at 2.

Household Receipts.

CLAM CHOWDER. For one quart of clams take two good sized slices of salt pork, cut in small bits and fry it out, then add a half teaspoonful of finely cut onion to the fat and fry to a light brown, taking great care it does not scorch. In another kettle have the broth of the clams, with sufficient water added to make one quart, and into that put the hard part of the clams, which have been separated from the bodies of the clams and chopped fine, letting them boil ten or fifteen minutes; then add the pork and onion and a teaspoonful of sugar, perhaps a little salt, and the bodies of the clams. Let it all boil up well together; add crackers, and a cupful of milk.

BERRY BALLOONS. A pint of flour after it is sifted, mix with one cup of compressed yeast cake. Dissolve the yeast in a little warm milk or a soft dough. Put in a warm place to rise. When very light add the whites of two eggs that have been beaten in a stiff froth, stir in a little more flour and let it rise again. When light, roll out into thin sheets and cut into circles large enough to hold a tuft of berries. Close carefully and steam fifteen or twenty minutes. Serve with hard or soft sauce.

PEACH PUDDING. Fill the pudding dish with alternate layers of cream, dots with butter, and sliced and sweetened peaches, having crumfs on top. Pour over custard made of one pint of milk, the yolks of two eggs, and two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Steam, and serve with sauce.

PUMPKIN SAUCE. Beat the whites of two eggs stiff, add the juice of a lemon and one-half cupful of powdered sugar. Beat until very stiff, then add a little cream, coconut, Freeze and pack in ice until wanted.

COCAINUT ICE CREAM. Put one pint of cream in boiler, add one half pound of sugar, stir until dissolved. Take from fire, when cool add another pint of cream, one teaspoonful of vanilla essence, and a pinch of salt. Freeze and pack in ice until wanted.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, AUG. 10, 1895.

Assessors' Report.

The Assessors of Quincy make their report today, showing a valuation of $17,325,850 and a tax rate of $10.80. The tax rate being the figures below, also those of 1894:

	Personal	Real	Total
Ward.	$1,220,975	$4,430,075	$5,651,050
One.	200,855	1,348,125	1,548,980
Two.	337,225	1,921,850	2,259,075
Three.	328,225	1,956,850	2,285,075
Four.	284,875	2,022,275	2,307,150
Five.	79,725	1,983,250	2,062,975
Six.	199,500	1,983,250	2,182,750
Bank Stock.	199,500		199,500
City.	$2,735,000	$14,590,850	$17,325,850

Valuation of 1894.

	Personal	Real	Total
Ward.	$1,220,975	$4,430,075	$5,651,050
One.	200,855	1,348,125	1,548,980
Two.	337,225	1,921,850	2,259,075
Three.	328,225	1,956,850	2,285,075
Four.	284,875	2,022,275	2,307,150
Five.	79,725	1,983,250	2,062,975
Six.	199,500	1,983,250	2,182,750
Bank Stock.	199,500		199,500
City.	$2,735,000	$14,590,850	$17,325,850

It will be seen that the gain in personal estate was $5,750; the gain in real estate $502,650; and the total gain $508,400.

The Tax Rate.

The amount raised by taxation this year is $302,740.30, against $307,827.20 in 1894, and $273,947.50 in 1893. The items of the levies for the three years are given below for comparison; the amount for current expenses paid by the City Council is the same this year as in 1894:

Levy of 1895.

City tax, (levy voted by the City Council)	$175,000.00
City tax, (notes maturing during the year)	78,451.00
City tax, (interest to be paid during the year)	16,144.46
County tax, (less $1 per poll)	10,572.30
State tax, (less $1 per poll)	1,295.00
Polls, (5.50)	11,696.00
Overlays,	4,519.00
Total,	$302,740.30

Levy of 1894.

City tax, (levy voted by the City Council)	$175,000.00
City tax, (notes maturing during the year)	87,750.00
City tax, (interest to be paid during the year)	15,970.00
County tax, (less $1 per poll)	8,300.20
State tax, (less $1 per poll)	6,250.00
Polls, (5.50)	11,840.00
Overlays,	1,359.94
Total,	$307,827.20

Levy of 1893.

City tax, (levy voted by the City Council)	$160,000.00
City tax, (notes maturing during the year)	62,912.00
City tax, (interest to be paid during the year)	16,000.00
County tax, (less $1 per poll)	7,705.24
State tax, (less $1 per poll)	10,000.00
Polls, (5.50)	11,000.00
Overlays,	6,082.25

The Tax Rate.

The tax rate of this year, $10.80, is a reduction of eighty cents from that of 1894, but $1 more than in the third year of Mayor Fairbanks in 1893, and the highest with the exception of last year since Quincy became a city.

Town vs. City.

The comparison of city and town rates is still in favor of the city, if we take the average for the seven city years, and compare with the last seven of the town, at will be seen:

Town.	City.
Year.	Rate.
1885.	1884.
1886.	1885.
1887.	1886.
1888.	1887.
1889.	1888.
1890.	1889.
1891.	1890.
1892.	1891.
1893.	1892.
1894.	1893.
1895.	1894.
Average, $10.21	Average, $14.88

Tax Rates in Cities.

Not one-half of the Massachusetts cities have reported their tax rates this year, so no comparison can be made at this time. A few are given below:

Town.	City.
Year.	Rate.
1885.	1884.

Atlantic Depot Fire.

The alarm from Box 64 did not come in very correct Thursday noon, as Box 62 was pulled at the same time, but the indicator at the Central station gave the right number and the department were soon on way to what proved a stubborn fire in that antiquated building known as the Atlantic depot. The Central station apparatus made a remarkably quick run, reaching the scene of the fire just ahead of Hose 2; too quick the Atlantic people felt in that building was the upper part of the building was a roaring furnace, and the smoke was so thick in that vicinity as to become almost stifling.

The Combination Chemical, which was first on the scene, laid a line of hose from the hydrant on Hancock street, as did also Hose 2. Two lines were also run from the hydrant near the depot and a fifth line was laid to the fire in the building which was saved by the department arrived.

With all these streams the building was surrounded and the water pressure was excellent.

It was the oft expressed wish of the bystanders to let her burn but the department heeded them not but put out the fire.

The upper part of the building was occupied by Alden Packard, a night watchman at the Consolidated Manufacturing Co.'s works.

Mr. Packard was at home alone at the time but was asleep and he had some difficulty in getting out and it was impossible to save any of his furniture which was practically ruined. The damage to the lower part of the building was by water.

Mayor Hodges was an interesting spectator to the fire.

As the men were making up some one said Box 61 had sounded and there was a hustle for a few moments throwing on rolls of hose and away they started.

That alarm proved to have been caused by a cross of some kind and the additional run was had for nothing.

The loss on the depot is estimated at $300 and on the contents at $200.

The Servant Question.

GOOD morning, madam! Do you wish to engage a servant? One who is quick, willing, and faithful; who can lighten your household work wonderfully? Who will do the family washing in the best possible way and in the shortest time, and make the clothes more beautifully white and clean than any servant you ever had? One who is equally good at washing dishes, removing grease from cooking utensils, making paint bright and clean, scouring tinware, etc.

If you would like to engage me, just leave word at the grocers, and I will come right up. My name is

IVORINE WASHING POWDER

If you wish to inquire further about me, drop a line to THE J. B. WILLIAMS CO. GLASTONBURY, CONN.

For the Patriot.

The New Bell.

The following lines are dedicated to the new church bell recently placed on the Swedish Lutheran church, Granite street, Quincy:

Ring out thy sound, oh bell,
Make hills and rocks rejoice;
That in their midst do dwell
One loud and silver voice.
Tell to the world thy fate,
That thou wast lifted high High above rocks and rills
To call each passer-by.

Long may you live to tell,
And with your tones resound,
A song of thank to God,
For the lofty home you sound.
Ring on, ring on, thou bell,
Call in the young and old,
Ring in the rich and poor,
And help increase thy fold.

Ring out in tones of praise
To God, who rules on high,
That in your midst he placed
A generous passer-by.
One ready to do good,
Never failing in his need,
And without cease or creed,
O sing, and pray, and shout,
And through your pealing strain
May none forget the giver,
But keep alive his name.

The Philosophy of Hoing.

Few who have had considerable experience in the work of the garden will be disposed to question the utility of the hoe in the production of various crops, however much they may differ in their estimate of the measure of its usefulness. Unlike some other implements, the use of the hoe is not confined to any particular purpose; it will render service of a varied character, and some of these services would appear to be not fully appreciated. By some cultivators it is believed to be of value chiefly for the assistance it is enabled to render in the repression of weeds, but valuable as it undoubtedly is for that purpose, it is equally useful as a means by which the soil may be aerated and the moisture conserved. In a season of drought, like the one through which we are now passing, it is of importance to conserve the moisture in the soil as far as possible, and there two means by which the evaporation from the surface may be checked. One is to mulch with partly decayed manure, refuse straw, or other vegetable matter, and the other preliminary stage of decay, and the other the maintenance of a loose surface.

We fully appreciate the advantages of liberal mulching, but in a summer like this, when the soil is so dry, it is of importance to conserve the moisture in the soil as far as possible, and there two means by which the evaporation from the surface may be checked. One is to mulch with partly decayed manure, refuse straw, or other vegetable matter, and the other preliminary stage of decay, and the other the maintenance of a loose surface.

We fully appreciate the advantages of liberal mulching, but in a summer like this, when the soil is so dry, it is of importance to conserve the moisture in the soil as far as possible, and there two means by which the evaporation from the surface may be checked. One is to mulch with partly decayed manure, refuse straw, or other vegetable matter, and the other preliminary stage of decay, and the other the maintenance of a loose surface.

Cut Races Next Week.

Another attraction for next week will be an open series of races for cut-gutted yachts of 18 feet and less than 21 feet water line belonging to any regularly organized yacht club will be sailed under the auspices of the Quincy Yacht Club Aug. 26, 28 and 29, over the regular club courses of seven miles, beginning at 3 o'clock P. M.

The prizes offered by Mr. Henry H. Faxon are a sterling silver cup, or other suitable prize to the value of $50, to be selected by the winner of a majority of the races, and second and third cash prizes of $10 and $5, respectively, in each race.

The start is to be a flying one, and yachts will be timed from the gun. The preparatory gun will be fired at 3 P. M., and the starting gun at 3:15. If the first gun is delayed the regular interval will be observed. If any part of a yacht be on or across the line when the signal to start is given, she must return and recross, keeping clear of all competitors.

The measurement for time allowance will be figured according to Herreshoff tables, and will be as follows:—First race, Quincy Yacht Club rule, water line with crew aboard; second race, Hull Yacht Club rule, sail area; third race, length, three inches above and parallel to water line; sails, mainsail only; crew, five men. Ballast must not be shifted or trimmed in any way during the race. Protests must be made in writing to the judges within thirty minutes after crossing the finish line.

Entries must be made in writing, giving owner's name and address, waterline and overall length of yacht, engine number and official measurements under the rules which govern these races to Mr. F. B. Rice, 125 Summer street, Boston, before 12 M. Saturday, Aug. 24. Yachts having no official measurements must be measured before each race by the measurer of the Quincy Yacht Club.

The City Council.

The determination of some members of the City Council to put through an order for new schoolhouses if it took weekly meetings the remainder of the year, was relaxed Monday evening, when the order was given its second reading, and by an adjournment was allowed to slumber for three weeks.

Perhaps this was necessary as four members were taking a vacation and every man is needed when sixteen votes must be mustered for a measure. The absentees were Councilmen Bigelow, Nickerson, Kim and Spence.

Upward bills.

A communication of City Auditor Hall set forth that Dr. Gilbert and Dr. McLean had presented two small bills for services in 1894, for which there was no money. Councilman Rice ordered an order for a transfer which was passed.

New Streets.

John G. Ray and others petitioned for the acceptance of Main avenue at Hough Neck. To Committee on Streets.

Another petition called for the acceptance of Hough Neck. To Committee on Streets.

Licensees.

The Committee on Licenses reported favorably on several applications which were granted.

On the application of Thomas A. Whelan for a pool license was leave to withdraw, which was accepted.

Reports.

The Committee on Streets reported favorably on the petition of Public Building on Grounds of the petition for public landing near the Quincy Point. Accepted.

The same committee reported an order for relocation of tracks on Franklin street, which was given one reading.

The same committee reported an order on the petition of the Telephone company for a relocation of poles on Water street and Hudson road.

The Committee on State Aid recommended $4 per month each to Thomas Kelly and Michael Sullivan. Accepted.

The Committee on Public Buildings reported upon the order for appropriating $60,000 for the two schoolhouses of wood, and the order took its second reading.

Councilman Sprague explained that he had agreed to the last report that a report might be made, but he reserved the right to move at the next meeting the substitution of "brick" for "wood," and "one" for "two."

Street Lighting.

Councilman Bryant offered an order appropriating $250 for changing the system of lighting on Hancock street from arc to incandescent.

Mr. Bryant argued that the street would be better lighted at the same cost. That the few arc lights were worse than nothing. He said the change was favored by the executive department. He moved to suspend the rules that the order might be put on its final passage tonight.

Councilman Johnson queried if the $250 required for the change would give the city a light for the year.

Councilman Bryant said the $250 would only be required for this year. That after the change the incandescent system would cost no more than the arc system. Additional arc lights would increase the cost annually.

Councilman Adams favored reference to a committee as usual, as there was a question as to system and no particular haste.

Councilman Grey also favored reference as there were other petitions for lights which were refused because the appropriation would not admit.

President Bass ruled that three readings were required, and the motion to suspend was withdrawn.

Councilman Sprague moved to adjourn for one week.

Councilman Pinkham thought Sept. 9, one week, was sufficient.

Rule 11 was suspended requiring a meeting on Labor Day, and the Council adjourned to Sept. 9.

An Octogenarian.

Dr. Charles S. French who was buried last week, was one of the old octogenarians left. Rev. Mr. Butler was happy in his words about him. One can live to pass into his eightieth year in this day of our century unless his life has been harmonious. Dr. French came from a line of men successful in the profession of dentistry. He kept his love for flowers until the limit of his old age, and the exquisite flowers that were profusely sent to him in his home were fitting memorials for him. Especially was the spray of ivy upon the front door with the grape, grateful to his friends.

The rare quartette of voices sang most beautifully, and the afternoon sunshine, the soothing music, and the presence of old friends were agreeable to the widow and children of him whom we shall miss. The best eulogy we have heard of Dr. French, was that he never spoke an unkind or rough word in his family. What better testimony can be given in these faring days than that of a friend who lived to be admirable and excellent? It was well that in his neighborhood business was suspended during the services.

Annual Reunion of Company I.

On Wednesday the 14th inst. the annual reunion of Company I, Fifth Massachusetts volunteers, was held at Mass'chusetts hotel, Hudson, Mass. The day was fine and a large gathering was present. Among the honored guests was Mrs. Lucy N. Brown of a local widow, which he accompanied to the reunion. Capt. Charles R. Newton, Capt. Newton was in charge of a nine-months' company and engaged in several battles in North Carolina during the war.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, AUG. 31, 1895.

Granite Manufacturers' Outing.

The members of Quincy Granite Manufacturers' Association had a glorious time on Thursday with their invited guests. The morning was a little showery but a large number took the street cars at 8.30, in City Square, for Quincy Point, where the beautiful steamer, City of Quincy, was waiting their arrival. In a few moments after the party had found comfortable seats, she started for a cruise in the harbor. Sailing down the river she soon passed Germantown, Rock Island, Houghs Neck and Peddock Island, and then out through Hull gut to the open sea; then taking a direct course for Boston the steamer passed Fort Warren and Galloupe Island on the right; Quarantine and Long Island on the left; and continuing, went nearly to the old large steamer Vindicator, which was wrecked several months ago upon the rocks in Boston harbor.

The granite merchants would have been pleased to have gone further up Boston's beautiful bay, but as the steamer was advertised to leave Quincy Point at 11, on her regular trip to Nantasket, Capt. Hopkins was obliged to turn the boat towards the starting point, and we soon rounded Ward's Island, where all our noble hosts sooner or later find a resting place. Then we soon passed the outlet of Boston's great sewer, and were near Nantasket, where the two old vessels that are being torn to pieces for the iron, copper, brass and metal work, were being taken to the scrap pile.

About 11 o'clock the steamer was at Quincy Point, ready to take her precious load for Nantasket beach. Soon again she was gracefully gliding over the water for that wonderful summer resort, Nantasket. After forty minutes we were safely landed on the wharf at the foot of Sagamore hill.

After strolling on the beautiful beach, the tide being out, for an hour or more the granite dealers and their guests took seats in the large dining hall, at Hotel Nantasket and partook of the following excellent

After enjoying the rich menu served by this excellent hotel, the gathering spent the afternoon as their fancy dictated. Some in bathing, bowling, singing, dancing, getting weighed, tossing rings, etc.

The most exciting events of the afternoon were the scrub races between the healthy and wealthy hotelkeepers. Fifty-yard dashes over the smooth hard sand, by young and old, attracted much attention, and fortunately there were no accidents, as the Hull policemen were on the ground, keeping the ladies and small boys off the track. We had no stop watch so as to get the exact time in seconds, but one thing is sure, they all beat the old steam locomotive, in which each race was finished:

Young Men's Christian Assoc.
An innovation will be made Sunday when the Association will hold an open air meeting in the Square, permission having been granted by Commissioner Eaton. The speaker will be Rev. M. R. Downing, of Boston, formerly secretary of the Boston Association.

Mr. Agdi Pirazzini, who has been working among the Italians this summer will return to Springfield Saturday. Rev. John May, the well known missionary of Boston will continue the work, probably establishing eventually an Italian Mission in South Quincy.

A CHANGE EXPECTED. There was a meeting of the directors of the Braintree, Randolph and Houghs Neck street railway at their Boston office last week and the result will undoubtedly soon pass into the hands of the Quincy Company—Observer.

CITY BRIEFS.

It was a delightful Sunday.

The alarm from Box 20 at 6.15 Tuesday evening was for a slight fire on the roof of the L of the Temple street restaurant. It was unnecessary.

Two of Mrs. Daniel P. Nye's sisters are visiting her in this city. On Thursday the three went to Nantasket beach on the steamer City of Quincy and had an enjoyable time.

Charles A. Howland, Esq., the able president of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance company, who has been in Europe for a number of weeks, is expected to return in a few days.

The new Sewage Commission organized Friday at the main offices of Paul B. Blackmur as chairman, and H. T. Mills as secretary. The other member is William T. Shea.

Rev. William Thayer of Franklin preached at the Centre Congregational church on Sunday. He is an uncle to the Fitts boys—the young men who reside on Orchard place in this city.

The residence of Col. A. B. Packard, always attractive, was prettily decorated for the gala day Thursday. The set pieces of flowers placed on the lawn was an original idea and a very pretty one.

About 2,000 fares were sold at the Quincy depot for Boston on Tuesday, but this does not represent half the number who rode as many boats are out. At Quincy Adams about 350 were sold.

The electric cars did a great business Sunday between Quincy and Boston, many of our people visiting the Hub to see the final designs at the Public Gardens and the decorations. The city is in its gayest attire.

The Randolphs defeated the Institutes at Highland park, Saturday by a score of 12 to 11, and the Whitmans defeated the Quincys 12 to 8. This afternoon at same place the Quincys and Whitmans play for a prize of $100.

Did you see Ike Pikey Thursday? He looked fine, and was dressed in all the colors, wearing a big black suit, trousers puffed down with red and a tall silk hat. He was the centre of attraction as the procession passed.

There is to be a grand moonlight excursion on the steamer City of Quincy, Tuesday evening, Sept. 3. Mr. John R. Graham, Mr. John P. Merrill and Mr. Benj. J. Weeks have charge of the affair and it promises to be one of the most delightful sails of the season.

The South Shore commandery of Weymouth, comprising the best citizens of Braintree, Quincy, Weymouth and Hingham, proved to be splendid marchers, and kept perfectly straight ranks. With this commandery was the Weymouth brass band—Journal.

Mr. Hawkes, of Chester, Mass., a guest of the Granite Manufacturers' association Thursday, informs us that the granite company in Chester are intending to build a railroad this fall from the track of the Boston & Albany road to the granite quarry in that town at a cost of $100,000.

Mr. George Monk of Quincy for many years has been connected with the Tremont Theatre orchestra celebrated his birthday Saturday evening by giving a supper to his fellow associates. The dining-room was very tastefully festooned with flowers. Prof. Butler at the symphony orchestra gave the toasts which were responded to by Prof. Thelma, a musician from New York. The party broke up in the small hours after wishing George many such pleasant birthdays.

An old, illiterate man, who can quote Scripture by the hour, is creating a sensation in Kentucky by claiming to be John the Baptist.

WOLLASTON.

A new house is being erected on Central avenue, near Arlington street, by a Boston gentleman.

Mr. James S. Whiting of Wollaston is at Provincetown for a few days. Correspondents will please send news items directly to the office at Quincy.

The best scores made on the Wollaston Golf links so far are Mr. Robert Porter, 44; Mr. Albert H. Brock, 47; Miss Marion Sherman, best for a lady, 67. There will be a large number of players at the tournament on Saturday afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Anderson of Boston preached at the Methodist Episcopal church last Sunday in the absence of the pastor.

Rev. C. W. Wilder returned Tuesday evening from a brief outing at Provincetown.

The Sunday evening prayer meeting of the Epworth League, and the praise and preaching service Sunday evening at the Methodist Episcopal church which have been held during the summer at 6.30 and 7.30 o'clock respectively, will be held next Sunday evening, Sept. 1, and thereafter, at 8 and 7 o'clock.

Hon. Elijah A. Morse, M. C. of Canton, is to give a lecture on "Life in Washington" at the Methodist Episcopal church, next Wednesday evening, Sept. 4, at 7.45 o'clock.

Reception of members and Holy Communion at the Methodist Episcopal church, next Sunday morning.

Mr. Frank L. Merrill and family will be at Brant Rock for the next fortnight. Mr. Merrill is to build a cottage at that place.

The Whatever Circle, King's Daughters of Wollaston, entertained twenty-seven little boys and girls from the Berkeley Temple Sunday School at Merrymount Park on Saturday. The day was largely enjoyed by the little ones. The members of the circle who looked after the party were Mrs. Edmund S. Taylor, Mrs. Charles S. Adams, Mrs. V. J. Emery, Miss Marion F. Taylor, Mrs. Albert E. Rhoads, Miss Mary F. Elm, Miss Robbins, Miss Winifred F. Howard and Louise S. Kolb. The circle was also assisted by Mrs. Chas. W. Tucker.

Wednesday night the Welch Cymrodorion of Boston and Quincy arrived in Wollaston at 7.42. There they formed in line, the marching orders were given and a bell line made for R. S. Jones' mansion on First Hill.

The object of all this was a happy surprise to Mr. Ellis Jones who is going, next Tuesday to New York, to attend to the business of the mission field. A beautiful collation was served by the Welch circle, Phelps & Clark of Boston, after which Mr. Jones was presented with a beautiful silver service set.

Mr. Jones is well known to the young people of Wollaston and Quincy. He has been for years one of the shining lights in the Y. M. C. A. and Y. P. S. C. E. work. We will wish him Godspeed in his new field.

Miss Grace W. Emery of Wollaston is enjoying a delightful vacation at the Webster House, Franklin, N. H.

The regular meetings of the Wollaston W. C. T. U. will be resumed Friday, September 1, at 7.45 o'clock, in the vestry of the Congregational church.

The annual meeting of the Epworth League will be held in the vestry of the Methodist Episcopal church, on Thursday evening, Sept. 5, at 7.45 o'clock.

Wollaston Golf Club.

The Wollaston Golf Club was formally organized at the residence of Mr. Wendell G. Corbush on Saturday evening.

The club has now a membership of 120. The officers:

President—Wendell G. Corbush.

Vice Presidents—A. A. Lincoln, Everett S. Littlefield, Wm. Fenton, Jr., Miss Marion Sherman, Richard R. Freeman, Robert B. Porter.

Treasurer—Robert B. Porter.

Executive Committee—The above officers, ex-officio.

Twenty-five were playing at one time on the golf course, and some good scores were made. Mr. Brock making 47. Carriages can now enter over the new bridge from Farrington street and spectators are welcome.

Considerable interest is shown in the approaching handicap golf tournament to be held at the grounds of the Wollaston Golf Club this afternoon at 2 p. m.

Two prizes will be given by the club, and Mr. R. Sherman will be seen that Quincy may well be proud of this young but vigorous institution which has for its sole purpose the uplifting of the young men of the community. It is proposed to start the following classes in October.

Free-hand drawing—Beginners, intermediate and advanced work.

Modeling—Same grades as free-hand.

Clay modeling—Beginners and intermediate.

These classes will be conducted as follows: By Mr. Herbert W. Beattie, to whom much of the credit is due for the success of last year.

Vocal music—For beginners and advanced students. While he has not been definitely engaged, the Association has secured the services of one, an experienced instructor, who makes a specialty of music.

The committee will recommend the securing of his services at the September meeting of the Board.

English class for Scandinavian men.

English class for Italian men.

These classes will be secured for these classes. It is believed that these classes will be adapted to the majority of the young men of the city, helping them along practical lines. That the endeavor to make the classes successful is appreciated by the manufacturers as well as by the men themselves is shown by the members who have responded to the appeal of the Association for financial aid.

Labor Day Races.

Tom Morris the great California sprinter who is to run in the big national championship races at Brooklyn, is expected to be in the city on Saturday.

Labor day has been training there for some little time and has already equalled the world's record there. There are several others among the entries in the races who have been already decided to be in different places and it is thought by many that the world's record will be broken.

Labor day. The sum of $3500 will be offered in money prizes in the different events and three national and one local medals will be completed for.

Barbecue. The Rev. John F. Cummins, the energetic Catholic pastor of Roslindale, is again to the fore and will repeat his immense success of last season by holding another monster barbecue at Apollo garden, Amory street, Roxbury, Saturday, September 7, day and evening.

The active preparations for this event are now in progress, and large committees of ladies and gentlemen are busily at work and will endeavor to outdo all previous efforts. Some of the features already decided upon will include anything ever seen at an outdoor entertainment in this vicinity.

Frank A. Locke, the popular piano tuner who with his family have been enjoying their vacation at Camp Montpelier, Lake Umbagog, N. H., will return Tuesday next.

Masonic Visitation.

The following visits are announced by W. R. Ames A. Lawrence of the 24th Masonic district: Phoenix, Hanover, Thursday, Sept. 28; Sutton, Duxbury, Saturday, Sept. 28; Sutton, Duxbury, Saturday, Oct. 5; Plymouth, Plymouth, Monday, Oct. 14; Delta, Weymouth, Tuesday, Oct. 29; Orphans Hope, East Weymouth, Wednesday, Nov. 6; Old Colony, Hingham, Tuesday, Nov. 19; Konohassett, Cohasset, Friday, Nov. 29.

Frank A. Locke, the popular piano tuner who with his family have been enjoying their vacation at Camp Montpelier, Lake Umbagog, N. H., will return Tuesday next.

ATLANTIC.

Miss Elva Bell of Portland, Me., will teach the sixth grade at the Quincy school.

Mrs. Harry W. Read gave a charming juvenile party Wednesday afternoon for Miss Mabel and Master Ralph.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Herbert Yeoman have returned from their August vacation having spent the greater portion of the time among the White mountains.

Miss Alden of Atlantic has been passing a few weeks at the Catalina.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Hall are at Woodstock for two weeks.

Miss Coe has gone to Manchester-by-the-Sea.

A most enjoyable picnic was held at the "Hummock" Wednesday by Miss Hammond, Miss Hall and several others of Atlantic.

Another pleasure was given the flower lovers Tuesday night, by Mr. George H. Sherwin, Olive street, who exhibited a perfect specimen of night blooming cereus.

Downs and Park.

We have not our new schoolhouse, but we must not let that stop us. It is actually needed, not keep our children at home out of spite. Every child of school age should be sent to school next Tuesday if they only go for a week. The city government is waiting for the building of the school to see how badly additional buildings are needed and statistics will doubtless be presented at the next meeting of the City Council showing number of pupils in Wollaston and Provincetown, and the number from the Downs and Park.

Races for the Burkhardt club will be held by the Squantum Yacht club on Sept. 7, 14, and 21.

Mr. A. E. Linnell of Wollaston Park, and Mr. Herbert A. Snow of Somerville, leave today for Buffalo, N. Y., where they will be joined by Mr. Linnell, who has been in Milwaukee for the past few weeks.

Business meeting of the State Insurance Society will be held at the hotel in Niagara before their return.

Mr. Ephraim Rich and daughter Gertrude of Brockton, are visiting Mrs. E. A. Snow of Wollaston.

Miss Geneva Cobb of Providence, R. I., is visiting at Capt. E. A. Snow's, West Elm avenue.

Rev. H. C. Vrooman has returned from Maryland.

The Congregational church at East Milton will be opened on Sunday, when the usual services will be held.

There will be open air services in the old school yard at East Milton on Sunday at 3 p. m. All are invited.

Mr. James Kemp of Halifax, N. S., is the guest of his brother Frank Kemp, who with him is enjoying a holiday this week.

A union picnic and festival will be the auspices of the several different Swedish Fraternities societies of Boston, will be held in the Swedish-American grove, Granite avenue, East Milton, Labor day. There will be music, dancing, speeches and sports.

Splendid Opportunities.

The Young Men's Christian Association has been called on to a vigorous work this summer, chiefly along religious lines. Mr. Pirazzini's work among the Italians has been remarkable, resulting in a number having become regular attendants at church services. The interest in the evening Bible class has been well sustained. The study has consisted in an analysis of the historical books of the New Testament also several of the epistles. The class will continue until October with the New Testament, when it will be re-organized and take up the study of the Old Testament.

The plans for the fall and winter work, however, especially along educational lines, will surprise anything yet offered the young men of Quincy. In fact, the course will not be equalled by any Association in Massachusetts, unless it is Boston, and for practical studies and thoroughness Quincy stands high in the ranks.

Boston, a fact which is proven not only because Quincy received two highest rewards at the International Convention and Boston none, but in the annual report of the educational report of the International Committee of New York a reference list is given of the Associations of North America which are doing especially good work in certain lines of study and Quincy is mentioned for her devotedness to the cause.

The full meaning of this can best be understood when it is learned that the Quincy Association is the only one mentioned in Massachusetts, and with possibly one exception, is the smallest Association in the smallest city of the list. Add to this, the fact that the Quincy Association has been invited to take entire charge of the exhibition of clay modeling at the Mechanics Fair in Boston during October and November. It will be seen that Quincy may well be proud of this young but vigorous institution which has for its sole purpose the uplifting of the young men of the community. It is proposed to start the following classes in October.

Free-hand drawing—Beginners, intermediate and advanced work.

Modeling—Same grades as free-hand.

Clay modeling—Beginners and intermediate.

These classes will be conducted as follows: By Mr. Herbert W. Beattie, to whom much of the credit is due for the success of last year.

Vocal music—For beginners and advanced students. While he has not been definitely engaged, the Association has secured the services of one, an experienced instructor, who makes a specialty of music.

The committee will recommend the securing of his services at the September meeting of the Board.

English class for Scandinavian men.

English class for Italian men.

These classes will be secured for these classes. It is believed that these classes will be adapted to the majority of the young men of the city, helping them along practical lines. That the endeavor to make the classes successful is appreciated by the manufacturers as well as by the men themselves is shown by the members who have responded to the appeal of the Association for financial aid.

Labor Day Races.

Tom Morris the great California sprinter who is to run in the big national championship races at Brooklyn, is expected to be in the city on Saturday.

Labor day has been training there for some little time and has already equalled the world's record there. There are several others among the entries in the races who have been already decided to be in different places and it is thought by many that the world's record will be broken.

HOUGH'S NECK.

A number of friends of Miss Annie Walsh visited her at Bellvue cottage, Houghs Neck, on Wednesday evening and presented her with a music rack. A good time followed and continued until 10 o'clock, a special car conveying the party to Quincy.

Capt. Boyd will probably resign his commission as postmaster at Houghs Neck at the close of the present season, because of ill health.

The squad of police on duty at Houghs Neck illumination night were entertained at Percie's Hotel. Officer Sandberg likes chocolate and pie and took first prize.

Q. F. C. Championship.

The 128th regatta of the Quincy Yacht Club was sailed off the club house on Tuesday afternoon. At the time the preparatory gun was fired there was a strong, single-reef breeze from the southwest.

When the first class was started the Gleaner and Beatrice crossed the line at the same time in advance of the Moon-dyne. The Gleaner pulled away from the Beatrice and Moon-dyne, and when she reached Channel Rock buoy on the first round she still held it. The Beatrice on rounding Houghs Neck squared away before the wind and broke out her spinnaker. When off Bunkin Island she overhauled the Gleaner and passed her, but as soon as they got the wind on their quarter the Gleaner again passed the Beatrice and won the race as well as the championship in her class for the season—the Sanborn cup.

In the second class there were two starters, the Swirl and Gismonda. The Swirl led the Gismonda one minute in crossing the line. Just after the Gismonda rounded Sheep Island buoy her centre-board pennant broke, allowing the half-ton board to dangle useless in the water. The Gismonda withdrew and headed for

SATURDAY, AUG. 31, 1895.

Summer Friends.

ELIZABETH CHISHOLM.

We met at the beach; it was morning, and bright. As the morning itself was her hazel eye's light. I bowed and she smiled, and we chatted awhile, And the whole day took on the sweet look of her smile. She was crowned to perfection—I notice such things— And her sleeves could give angels a point as to wings. Atty chaffed she wore, and most ravishing cheeks. That flushed her toilette and quite finished her. Her feet were encased in most beautiful boots. Appropriate still to her elegant suits. In canvas or satin or simply in tan. Those small feet were meant for the conquest of man. Whatever she did was done simply and well. She danced, she danced, and she danced—don't tell! But on each occasion she shone like a star. And men hovered near, the great motes of their eyes. And the daintiest girl to the old and the new. Had a message of cheer that made weary hearts glad. She was never too hurried to lend them a hand. And the secret of comfort was hers at command. But the summer is waning; we go back to town. And friends of the summer, ere leaves shall be brown. We will all meet as strangers; our ways lie apart. And I'll hold this rare maiden a dream in my heart.—Harper's Bazar.

—From Boston to Brockton by trolley has become an every-day possibility. Aside from Boston to Gloucester, the tracks for the electric street cars are extending rapidly.

—The fire loss of the United States amounts to one-fifth of the net profits of all the industries of the country. The insurance money paid in America is about one-half of the total throughout the world. This is chiefly pure waste and no reasonable excuse can be found for it.

—One of the Boston Sunday papers notes that a gentleman was seen one day last week splashing down one of the principal thoroughfares on a bicycle, to the great amusement of the bystanders. The man was wearing a well-worn poncy. The reins were fastened to the handle bars of the machine, and the man's feet rested in a pair of stirrups. The next thing will be a pair of stirrups. The next thing will be a pair of stirrups.

—What do you suppose the effect would be if the street railway companies should charge six cents fare instead of five for those who ride in the end seats of the open car?—Somerville Journal.

—The saloon keepers of New York are beginning to realize that the police commissioners mean business in their rigid enforcement of the law in relation to saloon selling. Last week one liquor dealer, on trial before Recorder Ford for illegal sales, was sentenced to 30 days' imprisonment in addition to the usual fine.

—The friends of Abram C. Paul, one of the prominent and popular deputy sheriffs in this country, are bringing forward his name for sheriff; to fill the position which Sheriff Endicott has long and worthily filled. It is believed that the nomination of Sheriff Paul to the Republican County convention would be handsomely elected, without a doubt.

—The valuation of Rockland for 1895 is $2,984,000. Rate of taxation $21.50 on $1,000. One of the highest, if not the highest, in the State.

—Peleg S. Leach of Brockton has a few sea vines that are attracting much curious attention. About three years ago a relative of Mr. Leach's was in the British Museum when a consignment of sea vines was received from Egypt. In unrolling the case in which the vines were wrapped, a lot of dried peas were discovered. It was from vines grown from these peas that Mr. Leach secured the germs of those which are now growing so luxuriantly in his garden. The vines are now fully six feet high.

The Quincy Patriot.

The Quincy Schools.

On Tuesday, the opening day of the public schools, the enrollment of pupils was 3707, and later returns would increase the total to over 3800, as new pupils were allowed to enter any day this week.

The number per school is compared below with the enrollment when the schools closed in June, and shows the largest increase in the Washington school at Quincy Point, which now has an even 300:

	Sept.	June.
Adams	387	405
Coddington	400	386
John Hancock	570	405
Lincoln	427	436
Quincy	314	321
Washington	300	299
Willard	353	321
Wollaston	284	280

The Washington, Coddington and Willard were the only ones to show a gain on Monday but others did as the week progressed. At the Willard temporary accommodations have been provided in the attic, so that now 20 rooms are occupied although it is called a sixteen room building.

The Wollaston rooms are the most crowded, the average being 48, the highest in the city. In the low primary there are 65 children, twice as many as there should be to obtain the best results; two other rooms have over 50 and only one less than 40.

At the Quincy school, Atlantic, the two lower grades are crowded, having 55 and 47 respectively, and it is said that many little ones at Norfolk Downs will not attend school because of the distance.

The average per room at the Adams is 45 and is very equally divided. The Lincoln is crowded in all the primary grades.

The Coddington is now the third largest school in the city, and next to the Wollaston, the average per room is the largest; four of the primary rooms have 50 or more children.

The large increase at the Washington is easily accommodated, although the primary grades could not take any more comfortably.

The lowest grades at the John Hancock are crowded but otherwise there is room enough.

About the usual number of changes in teachers of our public schools were made during the summer vacation. The new teachers are:

High school.—Mr. C. L. Tucker, A. M., of Stoughton and Miss Iola L. Pearl of Chesterfield.

Coddington school.—Miss Mabel E. Oxford of Quincy.

Quincy school.—Miss Adelaide M. Southworth, of Taunton and Miss Elva F. Bell, of Portland, Me.

Washington school.—Miss Augusta E. Dell of Quincy.

Willard school.—Miss Mary B. Tenney of Amherst and Miss Bassick.

Wollaston school.—Mr. Charles E. Finch, Jr., of Meriden, Conn., Miss Edith F. Bates of Boston, and Miss Mary L. Russell of Wilton, N. H.

Quincy High School.
The enrollment at the Quincy High school has increased from 248 in June to 292, and may go over 300 before the end of the week. The number in each class is shown in the summary below:

	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
Past graduates	6	28	34
Class of '95	6	28	34
Class of '96	12	30	42
Class of '97	22	30	52
Class of '98	22	30	52
Class of '99	74	60	134
Total	124	169	293

For the first time in the history of the school, we believe, the boys outnumber the girls in the new class, but is by a very narrow margin and will not be maintained.

The class of '98 is very equally divided, however the girls having a lead of but 4. In the building about two-thirds of the pupils are girls.

Bold Robberies.
Crime seems to be on the increase in and around Boston. Organized gangs of burglars, sneak thieves and desperadoes are visiting the suburbs. Fortunate for Quincy we have a fine police force, and few break-ins have as yet been made in this city. But our citizens had better be on their guard, for no knowing how soon some store or dwelling may be visited.

The Boston Journal says: "Day after day comes the report of the operations of a gang of safebreakers. Masked men have held up persons on roads which were by no means unfrequented or lonely."

"The residents of the suburbs are living in constant fear and terror, and this is the 26th century and near enlightened Boston. It recalls the days of Claude Duval, 'Jack' Sheppard and other noted knights of the road. The conditions of day are far different, yet the highwaymen of today seem to escape with even more facility."

"Thus far there has been but one capture, which, by the way, was done ignominiously and well. This was on Tuesday night, and was done by two Brighton policemen. They were notified about 11.30 that an attempt had been made to hold up a carriage containing two men and two women."

"The policemen seated themselves in the wagon, and, hidden behind the two women, drove back. When near the bridge unlighted Brighton and Watertown, five men jumped from a fence and ordered the occupants of the wagon to halt. One man grasped the horse's bridle, and as he did the policemen sprang from the wagon."

"They seized the man who was holding the horse, fired several shots at the others, who had already fled, and then proceeded questioning the prisoner was induced to reveal the names of his companions, and they were all arrested later. They hailed from Brighton and Newton."

Church Improvements.
The work renovating the interior of the main building of the Centre Congregational church has been completed and presents a very pleasing homelike appearance.

The walls and ceiling have been newly painted and artistically frescoed, by T. Gullickson & Son, the color of the walls being of a terra cotta tint with shaded border, and the ceiling is of a light blue tint with border of a darker shade.

From the centre of the ceiling there has been placed three handsome brass chandeliers of 20 lights each which have been wired for electricity by E. S. Beckford.

A new carpet of a shade to correspond with the tinted walls from the floor from the firm of John H. Pray, Sons & Co., and all of the wood work has been gone over and varnished. The large organ at the left of the pulpit has also been improved, and in fact everything on the interior has received its share of the renovating, so that as noted above the effect is very pleasing.

Ex-Fireman Dead.
Mr. Thomas F. Keenan, formerly a member of the Quincy fire department, died at his home on South street, Tuesday, of consumption.

Mr. Keenan has been in ill health for a year or more, and went south a year ago, locating on Mr. John R. Graham's farm in Kentucky. Not obtaining the health he sought he returned to his native place last spring, since which time he has been gradually failing until Tuesday when he passed away.

He was in his 29th year and leaves a widow and two children.

He was an active member of the Foresters and a past member of St. John's C. L. and A. A.

CITY BRIEFS.

Henry C. Weedon was granted a patent this week for a pipe hanger.

Republican caucuses will be held Sept. 24 or 25 to choose delegates.

Seymour Field of this city has patented a foot power eyeletting machine.

Mr. H. E. Ricker has started a stable at his residence on Bigelow street.

At Randolph, Labor day, the home nine were defeated by the Quinneys, 21 to 12.

Eight cent transfers are now sold on the street railway for East Weymouth.

Theo. Hardwick started Friday for a two weeks' vacation in the White Mountains.

Miss Tingley has returned and is preparing to open her millinery parlors for the fall trade.

The formal dedication of the Swedish Lutheran church will probably be held Sunday, Oct. 10.

The protest against the Rooster for fouling a horse in the Winthrop open race has been dropped.

Mr. Thomas A. Whitcher and family of Adams street have returned from South West Harbor, Maine.

Mr. W. Osborne and Mr. W. S. Osborne left last night for New York and will witness the cup races.

Mrs. N. B. Farnall, who went with her husband to Sharon Springs last week, has been quite sick since she arrived there, but she is better.

Miss Nellie French has been spending a week with her aunts Miss Sophia and Mrs. Theodore Washburn, of Bedford street, Bridgewater.

The employees of the street railway are now obliged to turn on the lights in the cars before crossing the steam railroad track.

The Quincy sewerage system seems to be held up in the Boston board of aldermen, on the question of granting permission to enter at Squantum.

The iron trusses which have been in back of Hotel Greenleaf for some months have been taken to Weymouth for the electric power house.

On Monday evening at 7.30 the Quincy C. E. Union will meet in the Memorial church. Good singing, sparkling addresses. Everybody invited.

Mrs. Mary E. Gilman of Roxbury is the inspecting officer for Paul Revere Woman's Relief Corps, and will make a visit in October or November.

At a special meeting of the City Council on Friday evening of last week the following were drawn jurors: William H. Glover, John W. Faircloth and Edward J. McKean.

Eugene Hultman of Washington street, who has been acting as conductor on the Nantasket electric railroad, got through Monday when the new timetable went into effect.

The Kayosch, Smith and Rooster made a class by themselves in the Hull championship race of Saturday, and finished in the above order, the Kayosch getting a leg and the Swirl a 100 ft. race.

The news has reached this city of the death of Mr. Edward Damon Allen, a native of this place, and a son of the late Samuel T. Allen. He died at Tampa, Fla., Aug. 24, at the age of thirty-eight.

Rev. F. W. Bacon of Boston preached at the Centre Congregational church Sunday. His text in the morning was Gen. 21:15 and 19. The services were held in the chapel and were very largely attended.

Mr. C. H. Alden, leather merchant of Boston, has purchased through the agency of Charles H. Johnson, the fine estate of Charles H. Brooks on Adams street, corner of Alleyway, and will make it his residence.

Rev. A. E. White, having returned from his summer vacation in the mountains, preached an able and eloquent discourse in the Universalist church on Sunday, for the subject, "Invisible to Truth."

Messrs. Prout Brothers are running with a full force of men and are more busy than usual for this season of the year. The McCormick monument which they are making to be placed in Mount Calvary cemetery is nearly completed. It will cost about $2,000.

Mr. Tilson A. Mead is at the Quincy Hospital and is reported to be doing nicely, and his recovery is only a question of time. He is severely burned about the limbs and face. Mrs. Mead is in Quincy. She escaped uninjured.

The annual picnic of the Swedish Lutheran society was held Monday at Merry Mount park and was largely attended, including a number of Lutherans from Brookport. The day was passed in a pleasant manner with games, music and refreshments.

Who says that our police department is not on the alert? Over seventy arrests have been made by the police since Tuesday does not represent half of what it would have been had the department been equipped with a hurry up wagon and police signal system, the need of which are made apparent every day.

John Wren, who was recently committed to the poor farm for drunkenness, got away Monday and celebrated Labor day by getting drunk again. While in this condition he returned to the home and began to make things lively for the inmates and the police were sent for to remove him.

Any ladies eligible to become "Daughters of the Revolution" can receive circulars and information about the order by sending their names to Miss Prescott at the Post Office. Most of the oldest and best families in the United States are represented in the different chapters of the "Daughters of the Revolution."

It was a grand night for the full eclipse of the moon Tuesday night, the sky being perfectly clear. It was a sight worth seeing although most people preferred to slumber. Shortly after 11 o'clock the shadow was observable and at 12.30 the moon was totally eclipsed. About 2 A. M. it began to come out again.

Charles A. Howland, Esq., arrived on Sunday evening from an European trip, much improved in health and spirits. It does him good to go far away from home, for then he drops the care of his office, which is a great benefit to every industrious man like Mr. Howland. When here he is ever watchful of the business of the Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

Eben W. Sheppard, who has been enjoying his summer vacation in the wild woods of Maine, far from any habitation, has returned in good health and spirits. His party found an abundance of fish and game and have had a very good time. Trout were so plenty and caught so numerously that the company fined their members one dollar each who brought in any weighing less than eight pounds. Deer were quite often seen and smaller game was plentiful.

With the coming of September business in this city should begin to pick up and our business firms should realize this fact and boom the place by advertising their goods. The milliners, shoe dealers, men's furnishings, dry goods stores and all others not represented by an advertisement in our columns should hasten to send in a bright attractive advertisement and we will help them to a rushing trade. Those who already have advertisements in columns should look them over and change them for wide-awake advertising matter good business. Try it.

The Summer Girl's Return.
The summer girl is home again,
Her cheeks are rosy, her hair is brown,
Clear hue of health, so seldom seen
Within the heated town.
Fresh air and exercise have done
For her what medicine could not.
Her eyes are bright, and life has now
For her unwonted zest.

What matters it how many hearts
Are suffering cruel wounds?
The summer girl has had her fun,
And gained just eighteen pounds.
For her flirtation is but sport,
And when she's tired of love,
She flings it off like a worn-out glove.
A faded, worn-out glove.

She's had fun at the mountains,
And she's had fun at the beach,
While tantalized young men have found
Her just beyond their reach.
She's flirted, waited, and walked with all,
With preference none.
And now a youth has given to find
That she was not The One.

And now she's home again at last,
Her loveliness enhanced
By all the leagues she's roved and sailed,
And all the miles she's danced.
She's home again, far sweeter than
She was before she went,
And if the world could see her heart,
It could find a dent.

UNCLE HIRAM'S MUTINY.
Everybody called them Uncle Hiram and Aunt Sarah. They lived on the outskirts of the village in a little white cottage standing back quite a distance from the road. As you passed up the trim walk your eyes rested upon a blaze of old fashioned flowers. Hollyhocks, four o'clocks, sweet peas and mignonette, roses and honeysuckles ran riot over the house, each striving for the mastery. If you passed round to the plot in the rear, you would see a little garden laid out artistically.

Uncle Hiram prided himself on his garden. His strawberries were always the finest, his lettuce the crispest, and his pumpkins the most golden ever grown.
The minister's Thanksgiving pies were always made from Uncle Hiram's pumpkins.
His garden was his chief delight and pastime. In it he found a balm for the greatest trial of his life, namely, Aunt Sarah. She was a little woman, with a plump figure and snapping blue eyes. In her youth she had been quite a beauty.
Uncle Hiram had been her slave ever since the days when he used to accompany her to the picnic and hunting best and the neighborhood. They had been married thirty-five years now, but Aunt Sarah's eyes had lost none of their brightness, and her tongue grew sharper from constant use.

"Poor Uncle Hiram was a miserable man.
Easy going and good natured, he listened to her scolding without a word. He never "sassed back," as he called it. The only thing that prospered from the whole process was the garden. No wonder the words were not permitted to grow in it! Uncle Hiram always worked off his unpleasant feelings in that little plot of ground. It was his refuge, his retreat, his solace. Aunt Sarah made it uncomfortable in the house.

Why in the world she should scold so much nobody could understand. Uncle Hiram was the kindest and best of men.
Her basket always stood full of kindlings.
The wood box was never empty, and she never knew what it was to come down into a cold kitchen. A bright fire always greeted her cheerily. Yet she scolded, and that continually.

She was a notable housewife, however.
Her floor was "white as snow." Her bread and cakes were delicious and nobody could equal her in making apple butter. Uncle Hiram never suffered from poor cooking, however great his other ills were; but she gave him no peace. She thought a great deal of him in her way, and when he was sick nursed him tenderly; but no sooner was he on the road to recovery than the old scolding recommenced.

They had three children, but they were all married and settled in homes of their own. Susan, the youngest and the only daughter, lived in the adjoining village ten miles away. The two sons John and Ezra, were in business for themselves in the city.

"Both good boys," Uncle Hiram would always say, "and kind to us; but seems as though Susan was the nicest."
There was no question but Susan was her father's favorite, and right valiantly she did defend him against the onslaughts of her mother's tongue; but Aunt Sarah, when fairly started, could be no more stopped than the wind.

"Let her be! Let her be!" Uncle Hiram would interpose, mildly. "I guess you can stand it if I can, Susan."
But now Susan was married, and Uncle
Hiram had no one to defend him.

This luckless afternoon of which I write he had resolved to gather some wild plums. How pretty the little cottage looked with the afternoon sun shining on it! The apple trees hung heavy with their rosy fruit, and the flowers looked as gorgous as if no Jack Frost lurked in the background waiting to nip their full grown buds. The trees were beginning to put on their brilliant colors before the chill winds of autumn deprived them of their foliage. Uncle Hiram gave a quiet sigh of satisfaction as he gazed around upon his domain. How happy he could be if only—"Hiram!" called Aunt Sarah in her sharp voice. "Be ye ever goin' to get started? Of all the slow goin', lazy, poky old men I ever saw, you certainly take the cake! Here you be, leanin' on that old gate, lookin' round at goodness knows what, and the sun gittin' lower every minut! I suppose you think them plums will walk right off the bushes and come to ye, don't ye?"

Uncle Hiram made no reply. His only safety lay in flight; so hastily pulling the bushes in the buggy, he drove off.
"Hiram," called Aunt Susan, the last thing, "be careful of my buggy!"

Uncle Hiram groaned; that buggy was the bane of his life. John had made his mother present of it on one of his visits home. It certainly was a fine buggy, but he had been badgered to death ever since.
Wrinkly as work and enjoying it. He had watched the road as a cat watches a mouse, and if he happened to hit a stone, he betide him! If it cracked, she scolded him again; so this afternoon Uncle Hiram was content to drive alone.

The rich beauty and quiet peacefulness of the hour soothed his spirits, and he began to enjoy himself. Uncle Hiram was a good deal like a rubber ball. No amount of depression could quite deprive him of his elasticity, and no sooner was he perpetrated by his tormenter than his spirits rebounded.

When he arrived at the field, he jumped to the ground with the alacrity of a boy.
A whole bevy of young people were there before him, and he was greeted with pleasant words on every side. Uncle Hiram was a general favorite. Both old and young loved the kindly, gentle old man. It did not take long to catch the spirit of plum gathering, and he was soon busily at work and enjoying it. He had tied the horse to the edge of a ravine where the plums grew thickest. Gay voices reached his ear. How pleasant it all was! It brought back the days when he was young, and life stretched before him in all its promise.

But his happy dreams were rudely interrupted. A party of young people on horse-back came galloping up. Their gay voices and shrill laughter startled old Jerry.
He saw, who had been plainly staring at him in the sunshine. There came, their horses' hoofs flying over the ground. Jerry pricked up his ears, gave one frightened start, and rushed madly down the ravine, overturning the cherished buggy, and to the horror of Uncle Hiram, breaking the top completely off; then, as if satisfied with the mischief he had done, he stopped and looked inquiringly at his party.

"Uncle Hiram!" The bright beauty of the afternoon suddenly changed to deepest night. What would Aunt Sarah say? All at once he felt very old and cold. His hands trembled so that he could hardly lift the buckets into the buggy. The only thing to do was to go home and tell how the accident happened.
There lay the handsome top, a complete wreck, and two spokes were broken in the wheel. He shivered at the prospect before him.

Very dejected looking old man was Uncle Hiram as he drove home that evening.
Aunt Sarah's sharp eyes saw him as he turned in at the lane, with old Jerry walking meekly before the topless buggy, and the wheel minus two spokes and the top missing.

"Hiram Gardner!" she fairly shrieked,
"what have you been doing to my buggy?"
Uncle Hiram tried to speak, but the words stuck in his throat. It seemed to him that his wife's eyes flashed fire. He never saw her so angry. He managed to tell her how the accident happened, but nothing could stem the torrent of her wrath. She blamed him for it all; she scolded him while he ate his supper, she looked him into the yard, and scolded to him. He never saw her so angry. He managed to tell her how the accident happened, but

The Quincy Patriot.

The Coming Festival.

The general committee of the Hospital festival held a meeting at City Hall Thursday evening at which time reports were heard from several of the sub-committees as to the progress they were making and the affair has every appearance of being a gigantic success.

The sales committee reported that everybody who had been asked to contribute was willing to do so.

There was no present from the music committee, but it was announced that there would be concerts every day and evening by the bands of Quincy. Also that the orchestra of the city would furnish abundant music for dancing.

Mr. Rice of the committee on reception reported that he had been thought wise to invite the Governor only and that he would be present sometime Friday. At the request of Mr. Rice, Mr. C. A. Howland was added to the committee.

The committees on advertising, grounds and other details, reported everything moving satisfactorily.

The committee on fireworks reported that there would be fireworks but the committee had not decided just what was needed as yet.

The committee on ladies' drill was not present but it was announced that there would be a drill.

Councilman Rice of the entertainment committee reported that there would be six songs by the school children. There would also be a minstrel show, athletic performance, boxing match, trial of a dead engine, etc., and that their programme would probably be completed by Saturday.

The committee on tents reported that there would be ample shelter provided and that the tents would be set up Monday morning. It was also reported that it was important that the committee should hear from the several sub-committees as to the amount of room they would require.

The committee on tickets reported that tickets were selling rapidly.

It was reported that it would cost from $100 to $125 to light the grounds, Mr. Beckford having given him time and the Electric Light Company the current.

Mr. Rice hoped they might be able to reduce this amount somewhat. He understood that it would cost $40 to put in the ten lights and the street railway had agreed to put up ten lights and furnish the current if the Electric Light Co. would give its current, but it seems that the Electric Light Co. refuse to allow the street railway to do so.

It was finally decided to leave the matter of lights in the hands of the executive committee.

It was also voted to notify the chairman of the several sub-committees to be ready to make a final report at a meeting of the general committee to be held Saturday evening.

Division 5, A. O. H., had a pleasant surprise at the opening of the meeting of the Hospital committees Sept. 13, when Edward Powers in a short speech presented the committee with $50 to help with the receipts of the festival.

Hon. W. B. Rice and Hon. Charles H. Porter suggested a children's day on Friday, when the schools should have a holiday, and the pupils should sing under the direction of Mrs. L. C. F. Smith, the musical director in our public schools. The idea was also endorsed by W. D. Burns of the School Committee.

It was voted to request the School Committee to close the schools, and allow the children to sing as suggested.

The following refreshment committee was appointed, and organized Monday evening at Room 13, Adams building: Mrs. Frank E. Hall and Mrs. C. H. Pond as chairman; and Mrs. Albert Keating of Ward Two; Mrs. G. H. Field and Mrs. J. Q. A. Field of Ward Three; Mrs. William McCormick and Mr. Jonas Shackley of Ward Four; Mrs. W. C. George A. Littlefield of Ward Five; and Miss Isabel F. P. Emery and Mr. Roger H. Wilde of Ward Six.

Reception to Pastor.

It was a happy gathering Thursday evening in the Congregational chapel when the attendants at the church and the ministers of the city were invited to meet Rev. and Mrs. E. N. Hardy. The new pastor and his wife received in the new ladies' parlor, which was made cozy and inviting with rugs, flowers, etc.

The arrangements were in charge of the stranger's committee, Mr. W. W. Parry, chairman, and young men of the church acted as ushers. Russian tea was served by the ladies of the committee under the direction of Mrs. George H. Hitchcock. It was poured by Miss Hardwick and Miss Burns, who had a table in the primary department room.

After while the assemblage was called to order by Dr. R. D. Chase and there was speaking and music. Mr. Chase welcomed the new pastor and his wife, and introduced a quartette: Misses Gray and Littlefield and Messrs. Hayden and Hood. Mr. Edward Southworth spoke happily, and was followed by Miss Alice Littlefield, who rendered a solo. Rev. W. B. Reed of Christ's church also spoke and there were solos and a duet by Miss Isabelle J. Bills and Mr. Hood. Rev. Mr. Hardy also spoke.

It was a pleasure to see Rev. Edward Norton and his wife there; also Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Butler, Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Reed, Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Yontz, Rev. C. W. Wilder, and Rev. E. A. Robinson.

Highway Robbery.

Mr. Lindsay of Wollaston reports that while going through Beale street about 8:30 Wednesday evening he was held up by a highwayman who jumped from the bushes and demanded him to hold up his hand. Mr. Lindsay managed to get away, when he started a running match toward Wollaston.

The highwayman was seen that night at 9:45 o'clock by a reporter on Brook street, Wollaston. When first noticed he was coming out of Thomas F. Mitchell's driveway muffled in a cloak to his self. He then darted in the shadow of John R. Roberts, whose skulking along made for the dining room window in which a light was showing. Raising himself on his toes he looked in for a few moments. The reporter then took a hand in the game. The man rushed across the lawn and up Gifford to Beale street where he disappeared.

Good Templar Notes.

At the regular meeting of Merry Mount lodge, No. 55, I. O. G. T., Thursday evening, the two leading features of the evening's entertainment were, a hat trimming contest by the gentlemen and a singing contest by the ladies.

The competitors for the honors of millinery, were Mr. M. A. Craig, Mr. G. Ripley, Mr. W. Grange, Mr. Joe Lawton, Mr. F. Axel, and judging by the results of their efforts, originality and novelty must have been their aim, each one being successful in introducing something new in millinery. The many expressions of appreciation which the ladies bestowed upon them, showed their efforts were fully appreciated. First prize, Mr. William Grange; booby prize, Mr. F. Axel.

The singing contest by the ladies came next in order and was probably the most successful rendering of "The Lost Child" ever given in this city. First prize, Miss M. Cleverly; booby prize, Miss Susie Gragg.

The following programme was then given: Reading, by Nathan Hardy; song, Mr. J. Johnson; reading, Mrs. F. Somers; song, Mr. Joe Lawton; reading, Mrs. F. Somers; song, Miss Ella Chubbuck; a Gillespie; song, Miss Ella Chubbuck; duet, Mrs. Hobart and Miss M. Cleverly. Next week there will be a drawing contest.

CITY BRIEFS.

The recent ball of the Street railway employees netted $300.

The Swedish Lutheran church will be dedicated Sunday, Oct. 13.

Harry Brown, driver of the steamer, is taking his vacation this week.

Mrs. Eliza Rhines has been engaged as cashier at Hearn's drug store.

Did you ever see such an army of workers as the City Hospital has enlisted?

Friends of Miss Zayna King will regret to learn that she is ill with a fever abroad.

A Belated Violet.

OLIVER HERFORD.

Very dark the autumn sky.

Dark the clouds that hurried by;

Very rough the autumn breeze

Shouting rudely to the trees.

Listening, frightened, pale and cold,

Through the withered leaves and mold

Poor'd a violet all in dread

"Where, oh where is spring?" she said.

Sighed the trees, "Poor little thing!

And the grasses whispered low,

"We must never let her know."

"What's this whispering?" roared the breeze.

Heard a violet! sobbed the trees,

"Thinks it's spring—poor child; we fear

She will die if she should hear!"

Softly stole the wind away,

Tenderly he murmured, "Stay!"

To a late thrush on the wing.

"Stay with her one day and sing!"

Sang the thrush so sweet and clear

That the sun came out to hear,

And in answer to her song,

Beamed on violet all day long.

And the last leaves here and there

Fluttered with a spring-like air.

Then the violet raised her head—

"Spring has come at last!" she said.

Happy dreams had violet

All that night—but happier yet,

When the dawn came dark with snow,

Violet never woke to know.

St. Nicholas.

Notes and Comments.

—Boston was 265 years old on Tuesday last.

—As the cold weather increases, so does the prices of coal. The anthracite companies have recently ordered an advance from 10 to 30 cents a ton for the Atlantic States.

—Seth Bryant of Dorchester, who resided in Quincy for a number of years was ninety-five years old on the 12th instant. His ancestor, Experience Mitchell, arrived in this country in the ship

Ann in 1623, and after living in Plymouth

a while removed a village in Bridgewater, which he named Joppa, because he found there one Simon, a tanner by trade, thus repeating the experience of

St. Peter, who, during his ministrations in the eastern country, was entreated to stop at Joppa with one Simon, a tanner.

During more than 200 years Joppa retained its name as a Plymouth colony village. Some years ago a portion of the people, tiring of the old-fashioned name, induced the postoffice department to change the name of the postoffice to Elmwood. Mr. Bryant cannot endure the new name. In his old age he sighs to have the name given by his ancestor restored.

For this purpose he has written his pamphlet. He will ask the postmaster-general

of bloomers on the bicycle, maybe the creatures wouldn't care to wear 'em.

—Many a child goes astray, not because there is want at home, but simply because home lacks sunshine. A child needs

smiles as much as the flowers need sunbeams. Children look little beyond the present moment. If a thing pleases them they are apt to seek it; if it displeases them they are apt to avoid it. If home is a place where faces are sour and words harsh, fault-finding is ever in the ascendant, they will spend as many hours as possible elsewhere.—Anon.

Reopening the House.

Much serious illness would be averted in the autumn if people more commonly understood necessary precautions for opening a closed house. After a summer spent largely out-of-doors in active exercise and in a bracing atmosphere there is always a depression in resuming city methods of living. Reaction comes, and

Diphtheria or typhoid fever creeps very stealthily up from cellars and lays its vic-timous, frosty hand upon the people. One wonders why there should be these diseases, attacking these people, and at this particular period.

Yet the answer is not difficult nor far-fetched. A shut-up house, even with our most perfect modern plumbing, is in danger of enclosing the germs of disease.

Granted that the greatest care was taken to leave it pure, it is still at the mercy of that malignant and insidious poison sewer gas, at a time when the people are most likely to be taken in by the pipes for fresh air admitted.

First, before the family come home to stay, open every window at top and bottom and leave them open for a day or two.

Thoroughly sun the rooms, if you can, as well as air them. Sunshine is fatal to poisonous germs. Have the house swept with great care, scrupulously getting rid of the summer dust. Burn all dust and

the system, shut in the room, would naturally seem to be toned and braced up, yields

Household Receipts.

TOMATO CATSUP. Cut the tomatoes,

heat thoroughly and strain; to one gallon of juice put four small tablespoonsful of salt, four of ground black pepper, three of ground mustard, one-half tablespoonful of red pepper, and one of vinegar. Boil slowly four hours, then bottle and seal.

DAMSON JAM. Stone damsons, weigh them, and stew for twenty minutes. Add then half a pound of sugar for every pound of fruit, and cook together slowly an hour longer, or until the jam is the desired consistency. Put up hot in small jars.

CUCUMBER CATSUP. Take 12 fine large cucumbers, cut off the rind, scrape out the seed and a little of the rind near the seed, and add to these, four large onions chopped fine; strain off the liquor from the seed and onions, and add to them four table-spoonsful of salt, and 2 tablespoonfuls of ground black pepper; add 4 pints of the best vinegar, and cork and seal in bottles.

VIRGINIA MIXED PICKLES. Take four dozen large cucumbers, half a peck of full-grown green tomatoes, a dozen white onions, two heads of cabbage, half a pint of red hot sauce, and a fourth of a pound of mustard seed and ground pepper each,

one ounce of cinnamon, one ounce of celer-ey, half a teaspoon of salad oil, and two ounces of turmeric. Quarter the cucumbers, cut the tomatoes in thick slices, chop the cabbage and onions, sprinkle with a pinch of salt, let stand twenty-four hours and drain. Mix the spice and seasoning in a gallon of strong vinegar, seal, and pour boiling hot over the pickles. Let stand two days, rub the vinegar, add a pound of brown sugar with the oil, and pour over the pickles.

AGRICULTURAL.

Fruit and Potash.

I know thousands of acres of fruit which are starving from the want of potash alone, though it would be found that the phosphoric acid will nearly always pay; the ammonia not so often. Even an excess of potash or phosphoric acid will do no harm, if well mixed with the soil. But where

"Mrs. Green is the only one I know of
that has a silk quilt, anyway; and her isn't a circumstance to this. Her silk quilt is made of her mother's old black silk; and black silk don't dye. Another color so it looks like much."

"No I should say not," her aunt said, grimly. "Remember how I dipped that old black silk of mother's? I guess I shan't try to take black silk and dye it pink again.
It's a waste of time and money. They'll be the first ones to see the quilt except ourselves. How many pieces did you say came yesterday?"

Elmiria went to the bureau and picked up a large brown envelope, out of which she shook a handful of silk pieces of all sorts, and counted them carefully.

"There are twenty-one pieces, Aunt Debby, and there were seven left from the lot we got last year. I put 'em in the wardrobe drawer."

"Mrs. Sharp took the lot from Elmiria.
'Land!' she said, appreciatively, 'aren't they pretty! Seems to me the silks get prettier every month. Now how much is this lavender one with the spring on it? I like to get you a dress of that, Elmiria.'"

Elmiria's pale face flushed softly, but before she could reply her aunt's voice broke in sharply. "Elmiria Horton, just read that will you!"

"What was I wondering to the printed sheet with the samples. Her aunt gazed at her with consternation,
while she read it.

"Well," the girl said, as she finished it,
"I don't see anything the matter—it's the same thing they're always sent."

"What," her aunt gasped, "why haven't
I seen it before? Do you mean to tell me that they've been sending that printed notice for over a year, and we've kept right along stealing their silks?"

"Stealing!" echoed Elmiria, hopelessly.
"Yes, stealing. What else is it, I'd like to know, when it says here plainly, that—she took the paper and read in jerks—
'You will return all samples we send you whether or not you select any goods for purchase.' Now, Elmiria Horton, what do you think of that?"

Elmiria looked more hopeless than ever.
"I don't see anything the matter—it's the same thing they're always sent."

"What," her aunt gasped, "why haven't
I seen it before? Do you mean to tell

"Homines animi dros nulla re propriae accedunt quam saltem hominibus dando."

Turn from the battling nations,
Turn from the war for place,
Step out of the ceaseless struggle,
And look life in the face.

No more of warring armies,
No more of blood-stained fightings,
For a simple act of kindness
Is more than a hundred fightings.

Too long has the blast of trumpets
Deadened the finer ear,
The pomp of armies with banners
Has made the sight less clear.

From the burning thirst of fever
From the agony and terror
Of a hundred forms of woe,
Here is refuge, here is comfort,
Wisest skill and loving care,
And, if through the sunlit heavens
"Angels ever bright and fair,"

Come to them, their mission sacred,
Would accord with theirs who live
With no thought of self or profit, Health and strength and life to give.

Kings may shower their empty favors,
Schools may squander their degrees,
There's a nobler, knightlier honor Than such parchment tops as these.

"The consciousness of doing Without hope of self or place, Freely, kindly, wisely, doing Something for the human race."

—Frederic Allion Tupper.

THE SAMPLE QUILT.
"There, Elmiria," said Mrs. Deborah Sharp, "there isn't another one in the whole town half so handsome." She patted lovingly the bright silk quilt spread on her fronting bed.

"Indeed there isn't," responded Elmiria.
"Mrs. Green is the only one I know of
that has a silk quilt, anyway; and her isn't a circumstance to this. Her silk
quilt is made of her mother's old black silk; and black silk don't dye. Another

she shook a handful of silk pieces of all sorts, and counted them carefully.

"There are twenty-one pieces, Aunt Debby, and there were seven left from the lot we got last year. I put 'em in the wardrobe drawer."

"Mrs. Sharp took the lot from Elmiria.
'Land!' she said, appreciatively, 'aren't prettier every month. Now how much is

this lavender one with the spring on it? I

Elmiria's pale face flushed softly, but
before she could reply her aunt's voice broke in sharply. "Elmiria Horton, just read that
will you!"

"What was I wondering to the printed sheet with the samples. Her aunt gazed at her with consternation,
while she read it.

Comp'ny. But I don't suppose she ever thought I was going to send for pieces of silk and keep 'em to make a quilt of—without paying for 'em. And here I've been cheating that store out of enough silk to make two-thirds of a bed-quilt! And I never thought of it before!"

Poor Mrs. Sharp so far forgot herself that she sat down on the edge of her best counterpane, on her best-room bed.

Elmiria looked at her dejectedly. It seemed had nothing, and she felt as if she were more to blame than her aunt. The silence in the room was so complete that the ticking of the clock in the next room jagged painfully. At last Mrs. Sharp got up and began to fold up the unfinished quilt.

"What are you going to do, aunt?"
ventured Elmiria.

"I'm going to think about it tonight," said Mrs. Sharp, who, when she was suddenly announced to her niece that she was going to Boston that afternoon, Elmiria almost dropped her cup of coffee. Her aunt had been to Boston just once during the last ten years, and that was when she went to the funeral of her husband's brother.

"I've been thinking all night," went on Mrs. Sharp, calmly, "and I've concluded that all I can do. First I thought I'd go to the store and see what they had left of the old stock. But what I

That Wife of Yours!

That Range of yours! If a store doubles their range business in less than a year, by adopting the policy of selling the very best range that Yankee wisdom can invent, doesn't that policy prove good?

Of course the margin is smaller on Glenwood Ranges; we knew it before we began, but increasing sales and satisfaction to everyone, offsets the margin.

Glenwoods are coal savers, time savers and money savers, that's little perhaps; but they're not expensive in price when you buy from us, that's something perhaps, $20.00 to $35.00.

THE TIME

IS NOW.

Semi-annually we have a house cleaning. Some stores have "Mark Down Sales" twelve months in the year. It's hardly necessary to tell you that there's a good deal of humbug about such sales.

Twice a year, after a season of active business, we sell out what suits are left at prices that shrewd buyers are quick to take advantage of.

We have taken the balance of our entire stock of men's and young men's spring and summer suits that sold for $25, $22, $20, $15, $10 and $12, grouped them in four lots and marketed them

$12.50, $10.00, $12.50, $14.50.

No matter what these suits have been sold for, that's our "funeral" - not yours. The "you-left" suits are all marked down to one of these prices.

We needn't tell you that our clothing is as good as there is made in Style, Fit and Quality. If you are any judge of clothing, we want you to test the genuineness of what we advertise, that these suits are the greatest value ever shown in this city or elsewhere for the prices.

The same story applies to every other department in our store. Furnishings Goods, Hats and Shoes have been reduced 25 to 40 per cent.

Come and see what a genuine mark-down sale really is.

Lighting Sets a Fire.

A heavy thunder storm passed over this city about 8:30 Thursday night and did considerable damage.

During the height of the shower a bolt struck the house of Hon. E. C. Bumpus on President's hill and set fire to it. An alarm was sounded from Box 24 and was immediately followed by an alarm from Box 29.

The department had to come to the scene via Adams and Goffe street, and for that reason it seemed longer than it really was. When they arrived the fire was in the roof of the L. and the house was soon extinguished.

An examination of the house this morning showed that a damage of over $200 had been done. The fire was caused by a lightning bolt that struck Mrs. Bumpus's house.

The bolt struck the house on the peak at the northern end of the main house and then went into the studio where the painting and etching were being done. The bolt then suddenly split, one portion of it going out at the rear end on to the roof of the L. and setting fire to it.

The other part went down toward the room occupied by Mrs. Bumpus, where the cord was burned on several pictures which fell with a crash.

At the time the house was struck, Mrs. Bumpus was in this room and had her head on the window looking out at the street. It was directly over her head that the bolt struck. The portion that entered her room ran across the top and down each side of the window where Mrs. Bumpus stood. She received quite a severe shock and was stunned for a few moments but fortunately not seriously injured.

Mr. Bumpus was in Boston at the time and a telephone dispatch was sent to him. He arrived home on one of the late trains.

This fire brought out what came near being a serious blunder on the part of the Water Commissioners. There was a hydrant located opposite the residence of Mrs. Lane, but when the street was put through the estate of Charles Francis Adams it brought the hydrant in the center of the entrance to the estate.

Without notifying the Chief Engineer, the Water Department took up the hydrant and carried it off and filled up the hole.

Wednesday morning Chief Williams was in that vicinity arranging for Thursday's trial when he was informed of the accident by a neighbor. He promptly waited upon the Water Department and ordered them to put the hydrant back, inside of a few hours, which they did.

Had Chief Williams not discovered the state of affairs as he did, the result of Thursday night's fire would have been more serious.

The hydrant of the city are in charge of the Fire Department and the Water Department or any one else has no authority to move them, and this should be a good lesson to the Water Department.

The auction sale of the property of John E. Drake on Washington street by Auctioneer Charles H. Johnson Saturday afternoon drew quite a crowd of money men, and the prices realized were as large as expected.

The City Council.

As was anticipated there was a red hot discussion at the adjourned meeting of the City Council Monday evening, when the Mayor's veto of the schoolhouse order was the subject.

The absent members were Councilmen Adams, Barker and Nickerson.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Sept. 18, 1895.

E. W. H. Bass, Esq., President of the City Council:

DEAR SIR:—I herewith return without my approval the City Council's report appropriating $55,000 for the building of two modern schoolhouses, for the following reasons:

Section 20 of the City Charter requires that before the City Council shall authorize the erection of a schoolhouse, the plans for the same shall be approved by a vote and certified in writing by the school board.

The obvious intent of the Charter is to secure only the erection of schoolhouses of a character as the School Committee in their experience and wisdom shall endorse; it is not the intention of the Charter that the City Council should authorize the Executive, any discretion to make alterations in the plans.

The Charter is intended to direct me to build two schoolhouses of wood according to plans of the School Committee, and I am authorized to expend the money for the same.

Neither the plans referred to or any specifications accompanying the order.

The Chairman of the building committee identifies one of two sets of plans by hand and how, as those which the Council had in mind, and the Chairman of the School Committee informs me that the plans indicated were in fact approved by the School Board. No specifications were considered by the board.

Upon examination of the papers in the possession of the City of Quincy, I can find no specifications other than those referred to by the Chairman of the School Committee.

I would suggest the necessity hereafter of referring to plans or specifications accompanying an order in a more specific manner than in this order.

The plans, and specifications when there are any, should be a part of the order, and the City Council should have the written endorsement of the School Board.

The City Council.

As was anticipated there was a red hot discussion at the adjourned meeting of the City Council Monday evening, when the Mayor's veto of the schoolhouse order was the subject.

The absent members were Councilmen Adams, Barker and Nickerson.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Sept. 18, 1895.

E. W. H. Bass, Esq., President of the City Council:
